Our Best to You

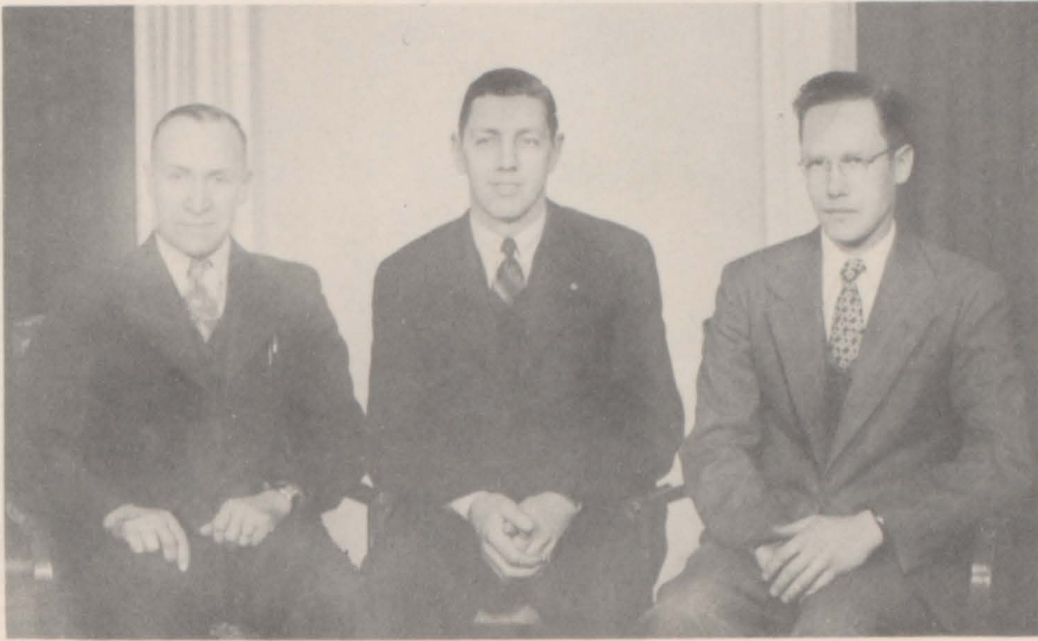

We, the Senior Class of 1949, wish to dedicate this annual to our parents. They have helped us when we needed them most to confide in and to tell our troubles to; in our despair and in our happiest moments, they were always at hand. They have sacrificed so we could have an education. So to mom and dad, here is the Ripper, our yearbook the story of the four years we spent at Seymour High.

Flower - Yellow Rose

Color - Blue and Yellow

Motto - "We have crossed the foothills; the mountains lie before us."

Seniors

It doesn't seem possible that only four years ago, a new group of green Freshmen entered Seymour High. But, the green soon turned to red, for it was the traditional initiation. During our Freshmen year the last Carnival was held and the Freshmen class pitched in and helped to make it a big success. It was way back in '45 when Bob Gavronski, Vera Mae Weishoff, Carol Meyer and Lee Gilbert were our class officers.

When we returned to school the next fall as "Sophomores", we were all prepared to initiate the Freshmen. But lipstick was forbidden because not only did the Freshmen suffer but also the janitors. This year our class officers were Carl Wagner, Kennen Wiese, Bob Gavronski and Marjorie Peotter. That year our first Homecoming was held. Ralph Huth and Joyce Wickesberg were king and queen and our sophomore representative was Patsy Holding.

Finally came our Junior year! Now we would be hosts at the prom! After many class meetings and much discussion we chose "Indian Love Call" as our theme and Dale Tubbs as our king. He chose Orla Mae Ohm as his queen. Our Junior officers were Kennen Wiese, Bob Gavronski, Eileen Timmers and Vera Mae Weishoff.

It doesn't seem possible that this is our last year of high school and that we've elected class officers for the last time. Leading us this year were LeVahn Heiden, Gladys Leisgang, Helen Coonen and Orla Mae Ohm. Remember all the fun we had but still all the work when we put out the annual...won't be the same when we can't hear Miss Rohner saying--"Bud! Margaret can answer by herself"...remember Lee Grunwaldt and Waldo Helein throwing slams at one another in classes...fluting paper for the Junior prom, and all the patient looking faces???...Social Problems, and all the fun we had at Oshkosh...Helen Coonen saying, "I changed my mind"...Homecoming in our Senior Year with Ila Mae Storma as our representative and Bud Hein, her escort...those play practices for the Senior Class Play...Senior Class Picnic...hurried looks of Gloria and Helen as they got the Blue Jay out on time?...Joan Wachtendonck and her "cute little talks" in Speech Class...James Marcks and his horses...Bill Novak and his comments in Geography Class...Ione Schroeder and her weak voice...Billie Reis, the only cheerleader from our class...and the sport triumph of Seymour when they finally beat Kimberly...our Freshmen girls basketball team, including Caroline, Helen, Gladys, Gloria, Lucille and Sylvia.

These are only a few of the memories which we will keep with us after graduation, but I hope they will help to bring back other delightful memories of the four years we have spent together.

Prophecy

In 1963, having completed our research work on grass skirts in the South Sea Islands, we boarded a plane for home. A few fellow workers were Helen Coonen, Sylvia Huettl and Gerald Wolff. We were made comfortable by the stewardesses Ruth Haas, and Carmen Braun. However, the operating skill of the two pilots, Dale Tubbs and "Waldo" Helein, was somewhat questionable. A headline in the Bruswitz Weekly Tribune handed to us was "Don Beyer Awarded Nobel Prize for Invention of the Two-Way-Stretch for Men." In the advertising section was a picture of Patsy Holding, Orla Ohm, and Eileen Timmers modeling the latest in French bathing suits. There was a picture of Bill Novak as he reached his long sought goal as undertaker and another of Caroline Kiltzke as she broke the record in basketball scoring. After forty-five minutes of flight, we were over Los Angeles. We couldn't resist stopping to see the number one hit movie, "Two Guys from Seymour", starring Jim Grunwaldt and Kennen Wiese. A brilliant helping cast consisted of Gladys Leisgang, Theresa Fuller, and Robert Gavronski. The movie was produced by Gloria Lembcke and directed by Vera Weishoff. The exotic gowns were created by Joan Wachtendonck. The ravishing hair Styles were originated by Lucille Reis. What a show! Leaving the theater we ran into Aubert Reitz, the new editor of the "Calling All Girls" magazine. On his staff is Bob Verbeten who interviews all the girls. After stopping in for a hamburger, we hailed a Baehler Checker Top Cab to catch our plane. Seated beside me was Roman Ritchie, the best football coach the Packers ever had. He had just come from seeing Norman Blohm, his star half back, living in Los Angeles. He had been in Seymour a week before and therefore knew all the news. He said Dorothy Moeller had finally caught her man and is living extravagantly in Beverly Hills. James Marcks has gone to the dogs! That is, he owns a dog kennel. Taking care of his dogs are Norman Klarner and Alfred Bickel. Is your cat sick? Call Ken Natzke, the well known veterinarian. And this we could hardly believe: Leland Gilbert is in Paris designing the latest women's dresses. Tell us, Leland, when will the new look become old. Donald Woitas has stepped into Spike Jones' shoes, (which are a little small), and has just signed his 20th movie contract. Irene Jach is the head doctor in the new hospital just erected in Seymour. On her nursing staff are LaVon Barth, Gloria Mielke, and Ione Schroeder. Their first patient was Bud Hein. It seems that he insisted he was a farmer, not a minor. A few of our classmates have turned to teaching as a career. Victor Muenster is a professor of Mathematics at the Peppermonto University. Good old P. U.! Angeline Vander Bloemen teaches the rumba at a private dancing school. Ethel Maas teaches dramatics and Robert Winters is the athletic coach at the Seymour High School. Arlene Jochman, the office girl, is working under the principal, Lincoln Lueck. Since big business men have moved to Seymour, they have chosen for their competent secretaries, Jo Ann Flunker, Mildred Kauth, and Betty Ziegenbein. Vernon Schneider, the "brains" of North Central College, is still studying there.

We could not resume our talking for we were landing in Kansas City. Stepping off the plane for an all night stop, we came upon Della Moeller and Margaret Schwister, salesladies in the real estate business, going West to buy land. We also met Bob Biese a talent scout for RKO movies. Hearing that the famous Lee Grunwaldt's Circus was playing here tonight, we naturally wanted to see it. We bought our tickets for the main show from Leonard Maas, the barker, and entered the brilliantly lighted tent. The first to perform was Marjorie Peotter, the tight rope walker. What a marvelous sense of balance! Next was a trapeze act done by that well known couple, Shirley Marcks and James Steward. Into the spot lights stepped Ila Mae Storma, the beautiful bubble dancer, wearing---a bubble---of course. Here come the animals. Junior Drier, the fierce lion trainer, put the ferocious beast through his tricks. Next came the dancing horses taught by Darvin Frederickson with Dorothy Bubolz as the bare-back rider. Then came that wonderful side show with Ronald Dalke as the fire eater and Lucille Hackl as the sword swallower. During the intermission, LeVahn Heiden gave a campaign speech for the presidency of the United States. Sparkie's campaign manager was Mary Ann Leisgang. A black witch show was then announced. The great feats of magic were performed by Silva Reitz assisted by Gladys Drews. Looking up to the highest peak of the tent, we saw Laverna Hartwig doing an aerialist act. Leaving the circus behind us, we went to one of the Gehrke's chain of hotels. Mary Jean Baumann is Glenda's manager and keeps the hotels running smoothly. The next morning, we boarded a plane on our last hop to Seymour, convinced that the class of "49" is the best that has graduated from Seymour High.

Class Will

We, graduates of Seymour High School in Outagamie county in the state of Wisconsin do hereby set forth this last will and testament.

Carmen Braun wills her interest in Shiocton to Beverly Peterson just in case ---- Dorothy Bubolz leaves her voice to Bill Guyon, and hopes he will turn out for chorus next year. Bill Grunwaldt is to receive Bob Gavronski's way with the women. The clarinet section next year receives the ability of Audrey Brusewitz and Ruth Haas.

The beautiful brown locks of Betty Ziegenbein are left to Dolores Schuyler, Caroline Klitzke's technique in sports is left to Dick Kuehne. Eileen Timmer's bobby socks are left to next year's high steppers. The whole-hearted interest of Vera Weishoff is passed on to next year's FHA president. The love interests of Kennen Wiese are willed to Jim Van Straten. Gloria Mielke's wardrobe is left to anyone who can wear her clothes. Carol Mott receives Margaret Schwister's "Gift of Gab". The sisterly love of Della and Dorothy Moeller is to be received by Margaret Leisgang and Elaine Lembcke. Pat Holding wills her blond tresses to Mary Ann Parker to brighten the way, in case school days become dark. Vernon Schneider's place on the A honor roll goes to next year Seniors. Orla Ohm, Mildred Kauth, Arlene Jochman leave their twirling ability to Bruce Wickesberg, John Frisbie, and Terry Brick. Gloria Limbcke gives her willingness to work to James Braun so he will get busy in study hall. Walter Helein's speed is received by Marcella Prelipp and hopes she will use it wisely. Laverna Hartwig bestows her nimble fingers to next year's typing class in hope of insuring a noisy and industrious commercial room. LeVahn Heiden will part with his vast store of knowledge only if Robert Appleton can have access to it. Carole Shaw is to receive Mary Ann Leisgang's ability not to let work interfere with her social life. To the entire Black Creek gang Lee Grunwaldt wills the Grunwaldt car--for how else could the fellows get to school?

Sylvia Huettl, Gladys Leisgang, Ila Mae Storma and Shirley Marck's interest in Isaar is left to anybody who cares to go there. LaVon Barth wills her long skirts to the boys on initiation day next year. Lucille Reis' cheerleading ability goes to her sister Helen to carry on the family name.

Arnold Nettekoven is to receive Victor Muenster's deep voice. Leland Gilbert leaves his long eyelashes to LarRayne Leyers so she can practice flirting. Bill Novak's basketball suit is left to Johnny Veitch, in hopes Johnny can fill it next year. Lincoln Lueck "The Perfect Secretary", leaves his title to Rosemary Haase. Kenny Conrad gets Joan Wachtendonck's ability to tell a funny story with a straight face. Leonard Maas shares his tallness with Bobby Flunker and Ione Schroeder wills her weak voice to Jim Farrell. Don Bayer doesn't mind giving to any underclassmen what he has that got his high school diploma.

Angeline Vander Bloemen wills her wristwatch to Bob Rohloff so he can keep track of the minutes. Donald Woitas and Junior Drier leave their shy ways with Duane Miller, and Dallas Werner. Irene Jach bestows her "one and only" to Janet Blair. Walter Hein's ability to get along with girls is given to Don Wickesberg in hopes that he will break down and use it. The curly locks of Roman Ritchie and Ken Natzke go to Gerald Goerl and Floyd Kahler. Lawrence Johns will receive Darvin Frederickson's ways with the teachers. With a truly agricultural heart, Norman Klarner and Bob Biese will their love of country life to Phyllis Kimball and Carole Tickler. Next year's English classes are to benefit by Norman Blohm's and Ronald Dalke's ambition. Silva Reitz, Glenda Gehrke and Mary Jean Baumann's sewing ability is given Jerry Wickesberg, Ronnie Sievert, and Vernon Wichman. Robert Verbeten bestows his voice to Eugene Gilbert so he can sing his way through his senior year. Jim Steward's and Don Smits' interest in Black Creek is left to any fellow who thinks it is the place to go. Dale Tubbs gives up the polka but holds on to his Barbara.

Theresa Fuller leaves her laugh to Don Sieb and James Marcks' farming ability is given to his brother Donald. Helen Coonen's ability in basketball is shared with Jackie Frisbie so she can keep the girls team on top. Ethel Maas' motto "Love them all" is given to all girls who can't make up their minds. Jim Grunwaldt's technique in playing football is willed to the football squad of next year. Gerald Wolff, Robert Winters, Alfred Bickel, and Gerald Baehler, always seen together, bestow their friendship to all the Freshmen boys. Lucille Hackl's librarian ability is given to Barbara Schroeder and Marjorie Peotter wills her musical ability to Donald Bocker. Gladys Drews wills her quiet ways to all the fellows who are forever causing mischief. Aubert Reitz's shy ways with women are willed to all the Freshmen boys.

In conclusion, we, the senior class, leave to the freshmen our accomplishment, to the sophomores our willingness, to the juniors our class spirit, and to all, our memory. Signed and sealed this second day of June, 1949.

Juniors

Our quiet Sophomores returned as Jolly Juniors, active in music, athletics, debate, forensics, and many other activities.

Their big event was "Far Away Places" held on May 13. Four Junior girls took part in "White Iris". Those mighty boys, Leroy Ciesielczyk, Allen Burns, Bob Rohloff, and all the rest of the Junior basketball players have done a great job. We couldn't help winning with Shirley Severson, Jean Lotter, Patsy Klaus, John Frisbie, and Eugene Gilbert as Cheerleaders backing the team every minute. Those guiding the Juniors class this year were Leroy Ciesielczyk, Lee Nagel, Allen Burns, and Alvin Olsen.

The new members of the class this year were Mary Powles, Mary Ann Parker, Pete Parins, Loretta Kurowski, Bob Dorsey, and Dolores Schuyler.

All in all we think the Juniors are a grand class and wish them the best of luck as Seniors.

Sophomores

The Sophomore Class had the pleasure of initiating instead of being initiated on this one and only day. Those poor Freshies!

Remember those great speakers, Jim Van Straten, John Veitch, Duane Miller and Terry Brick? Good at basketball too---remember?

Several new kids joined this class, among those were Annette Parins, Ervin Paulin, and David Grubber.

We also find Jim Jensen following in his brother Bill's steps as far as athletics are concerned.

Freshmen

A frightened group of Freshmen entered the Seymour High School door on September 7, 1948. It didn't take long and they were stepping right up with the rest of us. They led in the selling of Homecoming tickets and Donna Mae Mueller was elected Queen for the occasion. She chose Buddy Severson for her King. Boy! Were they cute! Two more of our Freshmen are cheerleaders. Darlene Roepcke and Helen Reis are doing a great job on that "B" squad.

They are active in sports, music, Freshmen debate, dramatics and journalism.

The officers leading their class were Donna Hancock, Dick Kuehne, Quintin Adamski, and Janet Blair.

The Freshmen have made a fine start in school and we, the class of "49", wish them all the luck in the world.

Football

About 50 boys reported for football practice late in August, 11 lettermen among them. The team elected Roman Ritchie and Ken Wiese co-captains for the season.

The Indians, highly spirited, opened their season with a 13-7 victory over a highly rated Oconto eleven. The next game, also nonconference, was perhaps the hardest fought game of the year with Seymour coming out on top of a 7-6 score over a stubborn Kiel team. The Indians allowed Kiel to score first but came back in the second half with Ritchie pounding over for the T. D. and Rohloff adding the all important extra point.

Then began a series of bad breaks for Seymour. Ritchie was injured and missed the next 2 games, playing under a handicap the rest of the season. The team got off to a slow start against Pulaski and lost 14-7 despite a second half rally. The next week Seymour defeated an undermanned Manawa '11' 21-0, Johns scoring his first touchdown and Rohloff supplementing his strong-pass defense with 2 touchdowns and adding all 3 extra points. The joy of victory was lessened because of Jim Grunwaldt's rather serious injury. At Bonduel Seymour had a scoring drive halted on the 15-yard line when a completed fourth down pass was ruled caught out of bounds by the official on the opposite side of the field. We lost 7-0. At homecoming the Indians outplayed the Conference champs, West de Pere, but lost 13-7 after having a fourth period touchdown nullified because of a penalty called after the T. D. was signaled. Kimberly, the last game for 15 seniors was lost 25-6. The absence of Rohloff, due to illness, and L. Grunwaldt, who suffered a broken leg when clipped early in the game, was sorely felt. Outstanding points of the season were Ciesielczyk's 102 yard T. D. run in the Pulaski game and Rohloff's kicking, missing 1 extra point out of 8. Center Ken Conrad, tackle Lee Grunwaldt, and fullback Ken Wiese were selected for the first all-conference Mid-Valley team. Wiese was named full-back when Ritchie was injured.

Basketball

Seymour started the season with eight lettermen back. It was the Indians most successful season in years especially after walloping Kimberly 52 to 35 in our third game Our first victory over Kimberly since 1941. We ended the season tied for first in the Little Nine and second in the Mid - Valley after walloping the champions, Bonduel, 51 to 32 in our second game with them.

Baseball

The weatherman was a little more favorable to the baseball team last year than he had been the year before and Seymour played 6 games, winning four. The thrill of baseball came when Conrad pitched a one-hitter against Brillion and in the same game, brought in 3 runs with his homer. Top batting averages were: Rohloff, .333; Ritchie, .333; Conrad, .357; Burns, .428; J. Grunwaldt, .461.

Homecoming

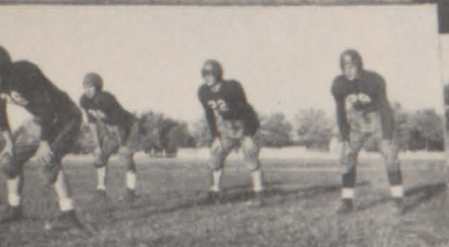

Oh, that Hobo Day...Jackie Frisbie and Clarence Swiecichowski as Hobo queen and king...Dolores Schuyler with her mustache, Kym Maess and her red nose, Pat Duffey and his crooked cane were only a few of the "Characters"... "Gentlemen Hobos" like Bickel, Wolff, Winters, and Baehler,.. "Dudes", Novak, Dalke, Heiden, and Kahler.

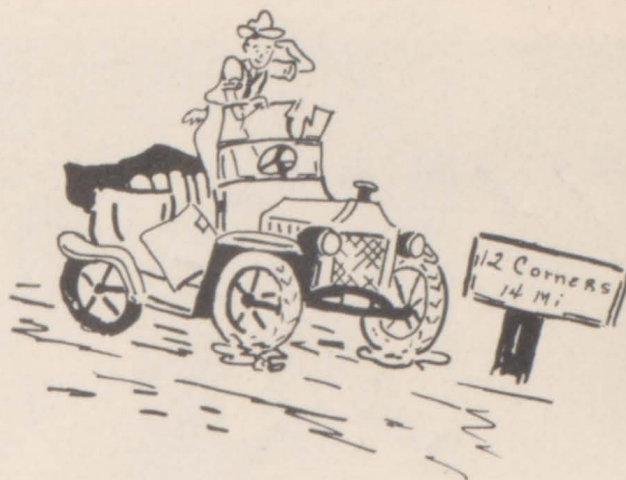

Remember Conrad and Helein leading the Snake Dance down Main Street.. "Ole" Vande Leest, last year's Homecoming captain lighting the bonfire. "Wonder where "Ritch"'s committee found that "little house?"...the cheerleaders getting the team up "to say a few words."

The wind whipped at our brightly decorated floats in the parade...we'll miss the fun of getting the floats ready...cutting paper...finding tacks... borrowing paint...Dramatics Club was mighty original with those bare feet sticking out of that truck...won second place...FHA won first and science-club third...Jim Mercks even got a horse into the parade.

The Freshies surprised us by selling enough dance tickets to elect Donna Mae Mueller Homecoming queen, and Buddy Severson was mighty proud to be king his first year in High-school..Ils Mae Storma, Carol George, and Lorraine Griffiths, with their escorts Bud Hein, Ambrose Zey, and Jim Jensen completed the Court of Honor. What a crowd there was when Howard Paul and his orchestra played for the dance...the gym took on a real football atmosphere..goal posts..yardage signs and pennants..and when the strains of the last dance faded out we suddenly realized that next year we would be Alumni..guests at the 1949 Homecoming.

F. F. A.

We had several good times in FFA activities this year. We had a big time at the county fair this year....remember that night we worked on the fair booth...and that trip to Chicago! One time we had to wait for Mr. Hanson. Sure was a long day, wasn't it? Those basketball games were fun...and we didn't do too bad in the won and lost columns, either. Everyone seemed to enjoy the day off for the trip to Hortonville...and how the boys worked selling tickets for the movie "Kilroy Was Here". The pop sales were a success at basketball games...and how about those magazines where Ken Boman proved to be a star salesman? Ken Natzke brought honors our way when he showed the grand champion steer at the Northeastern Livestock Show.

Dramatics Club

The first Dramatics Club project was the Armistice day program...At Halloween we presented "At the Stroke of Twelve" for the Kiddies' party..Remember the Christmas play "Geraldine and the White Robe" when Geraldine's guardian angel forgot herself and sent the clouds tumbling down onto the Christmas tree? First semester officers were: Helen Coonen, president; Gladys Leisgang, vice president, Sylvia Huettl, corresponding secretary; Carol George, secretary. Mr. Garvin took Mrs. Jensen's place as advisor

The Grand March

Prom

Gee our prom was fun! Those late hours...and all the Juniors here to work on it. The theme, "Indian Love Call," was worked into a beautiful setting...Weren't Pete and Orla cute...that off shoulder formal she wore...Remember that beautiful crown made of a white orchid, surrounded by red and white roses...Oh! and Carole Flanagan giggling as she and Billy Patchett carried the crown for Joan Cleven, last year's queen to place on Orla's head. The class advisors for our prom were, Miss Rohner, Mr. Main, Mr. Burmeister and Mrs. Wagner. Our decoration committee, with Vera Weishoff as chairman, did a beautiful job on the artistic drawings and Indian tepees surrounding the gym. We even had a real canoe. (Thanks to Leroy and Darrel Pasch.) Joe Berendson and his Collegians, with their modern music seemed to be well received by the formally attired prom-goers. Our prom, the largest for years, was certainly a success.
