Life is too short to waste
In critic peep or cynic bark,
Quarrel or reprimand:
'Twill soon be dark;
Up! mind thine own aim, and
God speed the mark!

We Affectionately

Dedicate . . .

"A teacher affects eternity; he can never tell where his influence stops."

—Henry Brook Adams

A leader of youth and certainly one who loves youth is the man to whom we dedicate this book—Mr. Robert Wolk.

We really appreciate the many hours that he spent with us on our Junior Prom. Can you imagine having a chemistry room filled with rose laden trellises and streamers of various pink colors? The constant chaos in his room for those weeks was something to behold! Little did we dream of having such a "Shangri-La" as we did on the night of May 5, 1961. Our dreams became reality through his expert guidance.

Certainly a large part of the credit for such a fabulous prom belongs to Mr. Wolk, head adviser for four years to the Class of '62.

Helping with the prom is only one of the many things he has done for us.

In class he has led us to the truth; by example he has shown us goodness; by concern over us he has exemplified consideration for others. Because somehow we want to show our recognition of his leadership, we dedicate this "Ripper" to Mr. Wolk.

Mr. Wolk was head adviser for the 1961 Prom. Here he stands in front of the fountain, which was lighted and contained real goldfish.

On his birthday, the seniors made up a special "card," citing all his help to that class.

Mr. Wolk assists Bob Heagle and Sandy Page in making a chemistry experiment come out right.

The Faculty Were Patiently Busy . . .

Senior Class Officers

Bob Butters, president; Sharon Braun, secretary; Mary Krohlow, treasurer; Ken Platten, vice-president.

Four years ago, September 1958, 172 Freshmen became a part of Seymour High's growing population. Officers elected by the new high school students were Mike Puls, president; Janet Reese, vice-president; Sharon Braun, secretary; and Mary Gritt, treasurer. Like the classes before them, the freshmen had to face the rigors of initiation. On this ne'er to be forgotten day the girls wore work shoes and bibbed overalls stuffed with pillows; while the boys wore heels, chemises made of gunny sacks, and mops for hair. The freshmen were represented on the Homecoming Court of Honor by Joel Grunwaldt and Mary Gritt.

A year later the freshmen became known as sophomores. The class was led through their sophomore year by Steve Prelipp, president; Bonnie Drephal, vice-president; Diane Lange, secretary; and Mary Gosse, treasurer. Homecoming representatives that year were Lynn Stritzel and Bonnie Drephal. The sophomores started the year off right, as their homecoming float, "Argyles'll Sock'em," won first place in the parade. Through their contributions, the sophomores also elected Bob Clymer and Mary Gosse king and queen of the Polio Dance.

The class reached the middle of the ladder when they became juniors. The class received recognition by electing not only their Homecoming representatives, Ken Platten and Carla Decker, king and queen, but also taking first place with their float, "The Coach and Team Will Haul in a Victory," in the Homecoming parade.

The main event in their junior year was the Prom, "Shangri-la," held on May 5. Decorations included a fountain, a wishing well, a glittering castle, rose-covered trellises, and a peacock adorning the stage, where Gail Shepherdson provided the music. King and queen were Chris Anschutz and Diane Lange, while the remainder of the court included Lynn Stritzel and Mary Gosse, Steve Prelipp and Bonnie Drephal, Bob Butters and Joyce Brick, Herb Stephani and Jean Banker, and Darel Thomas and Joyce Vanden Heuvel.

Also during their junior year, class rings were selected and Chris Anschutz and Mary Gosse were elected vice-president and secretary, respectively, of the Student Council. Bonnie Drephal and Jean Banker were chosen as Badger Girls, while Lynn Stritzel and Chris Anschutz were Badger Boys. Class officers that year were Chris Anschutz, president; Bob Butters, vice-president; Darhl Ehlert, secretary; and Mary Gosse, treasurer.

In their senior year, the class took first prize for the third time with their Homecoming float, "We'll Gopher a Victory," which featured a gopher with a movable head and hand holding a victory flag. Their representatives at the Homecoming Dance were King David Roskom and Queen Joanne Gosz. Guiding the class through their final year were Bob Butters, president; Ken Platten, vice-president; Sharon Braun, secretary; and Mary Krohlow, treasurer.

Major activities during their senior year included the "Ripper," under the direction of Mrs. Steffen and Sharon Braun, editor; the Senior Class Play, and as they reached the very top rung of the ladder, GRADUATION!

The Will

We, the Seniors of Seymour Union High School, City of Seymour, County of Outagamie, and State of Wisconsin, being of sound mind and body, do hereby declare and publish this, our Last Will and Testament:

To our parents we leave our appreciation for giving us a chance to receive an education.

To the faculty, we hope we leave many pleasant memories of our class.

To the janitors we leave our notes and test papers.

To our advisers we leave our gratitude for the help they have given us.

To the Juniors we leave our caps and gowns.

To the Sophomores we leave our school spirit.

To the Freshmen we will four years of good times at S.U.H.S.

I, Sally Henn, will my last name to the chickens, because I won't need it much longer.

I, Paula Reed, will jangly bracelets to Ronda Mitchell.

I, Jim Schopen, will my love for cars to Pat Edwards.

I, David Hopkins, will my drum to Mr. Flanagan.

I, Dennis Armitage, bequeath the cast for my thumb to anyone who wants to get out of all the tests.

I, Joyce Brick, will my changeable hair color to Judy Welch.

I, Wayne Brugger, leave my law-abiding driving to Mr. Main.

I, Eugene Bunnell, will my height to next year's basketball center.

I, Daphne DuFour, will my nickname "Daffy" to anyone with a personality to match it.

I, Mary Gosse, will my "yak" ability to Carol Schuyler.

I, Otto Uecker, will my magnificent physique to Dennis Sutliff.

I, Judi Ullmer, will my love of hunting to Jenelle Peterson.

I, Helen Van Kauwenberg, leave my freckles to Joan Stueflat.

I, Bonnie Jach, will Olson's aprons to Barb Van Vuren.

I, Donald Baumgartner, will my love for reading library books in U. S. History to Mr. Thomsen.

I, Tom Birling, will my FFA presidency to anyone who wants it.

I, Mike Puls, will my questioning ability in American Problems to any student who wants to waste time.

I, Janet Reese, will the milk truck back to my father.

I, Dave Roskom, will my curly hair to Carl Doersch.

I, Sharon Runnoe, will my funny telephone conversations to Miss Holmes.

I, Sherril Anderson, will my drawings to the National Art Institute.

I, Chris Anschutz, will my love for horses to anyone who wants to be a knight.

I, Ernest Baxter, will my easy-goingness to Kathy Parks.

I, Gary Blohm, will my willingness to participate in things to Judy Dryden.

I, Jack Stephani, will my usher band to Mark Ullmer.

I, Susan Sutliff, bequeath the wicked look in my eyes to any girls who are bored with life.

I, Darel Thomas, will my red hair to Charles Kellogg.

We, Sheryl Rusch, Sally Schroeder and Eleanor Bosin, will our "well-balanced" dinners from the store to the cooks.

We, Nancy Schmit and Lois Hansen, will our love for "Happy's" to Jim Tubbs.

I, Connie Husman, leave my good marks to anyone who is flunking.

I, Dan Johnson, will my lost science book to Jim Hackel.

I, Ruth Kettner, will the mileage I make delivering absence lists to next year's track team.

I, Sharon Kettner, will my accuracy in typing to future students of Miss Holmes.

I, Janet Kleist, will my love for tall men to Mary Vander Zanden.

I, Lee Krahn, leave my sketch book in the incinerator.

I, Carol Mueller, will my long fingernails to Cheryl Molthen.

I, Allan Mueller, leave my good figure to Metrecal.

I, Virginia Gritt, will my unused study halls to Jack Griesbach, in the hope that he will use them.

I, Andrea Hansen, will my long blonde (?) locks to Judy Stritzel.

We, Darhl Ehlert and Joanne Gosz, bequeath our late dates to the owls.

We, Judy Felton and Bertha Glatz, bequeath our good nights to Sharon Rihm.

We, Pat Stutzman, Nadine Summers, and Shirley Fuss, will our quietness to Betty De Bruin.

I, Lee Genske, will my attentiveness in class to all "sleepers."

I, Evert Wendt, will my thrust out of seventh hour

English class to Cape Canaveral.

I, Herbert Stephani, will my dancing feet to James Veitch.

I, Carol Prelipp, will my aggressiveness in getting on the bus to all late sleepers.

I, Lynn Stritzel, will my basketball shorts to Dennis Sutliff.

I, Rosemary Hackel, will my love for farm implement shops to all agriculture students.

I, Linda Lou Court, will my job of pasting pictures for the "Ripper" to all students who liked first grade.

I, Kay Hallam, will to all underclassmen the good times I had at Seymour High.

I, Gene Kaczrowski, will leave as fast as I can.

Signed and sealed this thirty-first day of May, nineteen hundred and sixty-two.

Prophecy

Rolland Genske is seen standing before a glass door on which is printed:

"DR. MARK SPAUDE—PSYCHIATRIST"

He cautiously twists the knob and tiptoes in. He is greeted by secretary, Sherril Anderson, who leads him into the office. The doctor vigorously shakes Rollie's hand and gives him an over-friendly smile. Rollie heads for the couch and relates his latest hallucinations, which have led him ten years beyond his graduation.

"One very realistic dream I keep having is when I take off for Germany to see my buddies in the service, Wayne Muenster and Gary Blohm. I don't have any trouble getting a ticket, mainly because I don't get one! It is easy getting by the sleeping fuel men, Donald Baumgartner, John Woodke, and Orley Nelson. So I proceed up the baggage ramp, where I meet Andrea Hanson's ferocious pet Pomeranian, Fang. Steven Werner's cow provides background music. I feel myself rising off the ground when calm, cool, and efficient Lawrence Peters, our pilot, quietly lifts the wheels and closes the hatch—WHAM!!! Like a shot I decide to raise my rank to a first class passenger! As I work to lodge myself under a seat, I barely miss being discovered by stewardess Gloria Doxtator, and clunked on the head by David Roskom's spike shoes. All I can see down here is feet (and gum). Why, that could hardly be Sueanne Moriearty over there, but those feet have her same anxious swing. By the looks of those angrily stamping feet beside her, she must be arguing with Colleen Doersch. I can hear Janet Reese putting in her words, too. Veronica Letter is sitting by taking notes.

"Suddenly there comes an announcement over the loudspeaker, 'All passengers put on parachutes, which are to be found in front of your seat. It looks like we will be forced to make a crash landing in Africa's largest jungle.' Considering my stowaway status, there is no parachute allotted to me, but in no time I spot Suanne Nachtwey who needs smelling salts as badly as I need a parachute. It was a lucky trade for me!!

"The trip down is a breeze!! The landing is soft, if wet, but I quickly pull myself out of the mud and look around. Karen Wolff is up her tree again, and there are Kathleen Hallam and Mary Gosse making orchids! Looks like they have gotten a promotion from roses. Wonder of wonders, a little zebra walks out of the brush just then, and I jump at the chance . . . I mean, at the zebra! We take off out of the jungle! I think we are going fast, but I hear the patter of little feet behind, and I turn around and see the "Globe Trotters" gaining on us rapidly. There is manager, Lavern Brugger, in the lead, with Lynn Stritzel, Steven Prelipp, Dennis Armitage, Robert Butters, Otto Uecker, and Michael Puls. I click to my zebra to "move it," and what does he do but trip on Jean Banker's pet snake! My poor zebra goes into shock. I am rather shocked, too, when I step off onto a little pigmy, Eugene Bunnell. Donna Springstroh, jungle vet, with her aide, Jeannette Van Doorn, to hold her hand, comes to take care of repairs. Meanwhile, I decide to dine with the chief, Gene Kaczrowski. Paula Reed serves wild pigtails, and Barbara Trost and Miriam Tubbs break tribal customs and go back for seconds.

"As I take my after-dinner walk, I see a sign which says 'Carol Mueller's Fabulous Tints.' I walk in and see Joyce Brick and Carol Minschmidt getting a new hair-do. Being out of place there, I proceed further down the line. On the corner I see Sandra Page, Sharon Runnoe, and Constance Husman selling Senior Service Scout tickets to 'Gidget Goes Ape.' Baxter's Blacksmith Shop is my next stop. Ernest seems to be having a little trouble with Pat Murray's hot rod lion. He was dragging with Wayne Brugger's tiger when he had a breakdown. Alvin Socha on a gazelle scraped Darel Thomas off the strip, checkered flag and all!

"Another sign announces 'Zane Zuleger's Dancing Studio.' He is teaching Herbert Melchert, Nancy Schmit, Roman Smith, and Lois Hansen how to do the jungle twist. Witch doctor, David Hopkins, is standing by in case of injury.

"Just then I hear the scream of a wild bobcat. I am much relieved to see David Kuhn and Roger Christensen have the animal under control.

"Linda Lou Court and Carol Schroeder come running to me to announce the hunting pow-wow this evening. Preparations are already under way. Jim Doersch and Lee Krahn are busy hauling vegetables for the stew, and Patricia Stutzman is practicing her snake charming act. Baby sitters, Sheryl Rusch and Carol Prelipp, are being called over the drum system operated by Lee Genske. Cyril Wolff, Thomas Birling, and Raymond Nelson are already beginning to build the fire, and Joyce Vanden Heuvel is helping the chief with his make-up. Marilyn Lembcke and Sharon Larsen are briefing the other Safety Club members as to how to keep disorder at the pow-wow.

"The crowd begins to gather now, and Wilmina Ward and Bonita Jach put the pot on to boil. Janet Kleist and Mary Zuleger have the vegetables almost prepared, and Judith Felton and Bertha Glatz are ready to stir. A welcome speech is given by Margo Melchert, and a shrunken head (Douglas Buelow's) is given to Joanne Gosz as a door prize. Beth Veitch and Sharon Braun then faint and are added to the broth by the chief's handy assistants, Roger Dorn, Daniel Johnson, Francis Ver Voort, and Kenneth Doersch. They should add a little flavor—and interest! At this point, Carla Decker and Helen Van Kauwenberg go into hysterics and Sergeant-at-Arms, Bonnie Drephal, quiets them by threatening to use them for fuel. Thomas Daniels tells us about his latest idea in spark plugs. While the stew simmers, we are entertained by Darhl Elhert, Norma Miller, and Jean Bathke, singing 'The Purple People Eater' in pig latin. They are accompanied by John Stephani on the elephant tusks, Evert Wendt on his hide, and Herbert Stephani playing the skull and cross-bones. Susan Sutliff and Sally Henn need no accompaniment singing 'Does Your Chewing Gum Lose Its Flavor on the Bed Post Overnight?' Here comes the blushing queen—the prettiest ever seen: Diane Lange, of course. Anna Marie Carpenter and Ruth Kettner are preparing the way with carpet and flowers; Carol Miller and Norma Martzahl are carrying the train.

"The hunting god, Chris Anschutz, is in good humor now, and the dance begins. Janice Loos, Shirley Fuss, Sally Schroeder, and Nadine Summers are unrecognizable behind their ferocious masks. The dance over, Mary Krohlow and Richard Wagner serve the stew with a flourish. My, was that a tasty dish!

"The ritual is over and our hunger being satisfied, we snatch our weapons and go in search of some good heads. Kenneth Jourdan was kind enough to be my guide and body guard, but the first head, Judi Ulmer's, proves too much for me, and I throw a fit and am carried off by four strong men, Robert Moeller, Ronald Dranzik, Ernest Cunningham, and Richard Mielke. When I regain consciousness, I find myself being pampered by Eleanor Bosin, Sharon Kettner, Virginia Gritt, and Arvis Zachow. Also one jealous doctor, James Schoen, looks in on me now and then, but I don't pity him as Mary Gritt is his private secretary. The pleasures are cut short when in comes the head doctor, Allan Mueller, with Daphne Du Four to help him keep the knives nick-free.

"Then my adventures really began—What's the matter, Doctor? Well, I guess I'll have to call a psychiatrist to help this guy out. Operator! Operator Rosemary Hackel! Send in Kenneth Platten and Kenneth Malueg—and tell them to bring their butterfly nets!"

JUNIORS

Maxine Loritz, treasurer; Gail Kroner, president; Dick Lathrop, vice-president; Lois Melchert, secretary.

The highlight for the Juniors this year was the Junior Prom. The big night was May 4, with "Enchantment" as a theme. The music was furnished by Ray Reis and his orchestra.

Marlin Nelson and Phyllis Krahn were elected as the Student Council vice-president and secretary, respectively, after lively campaigning and much hard work.

"To Heck with the Blue Devils" was the theme of their homecoming float. Lois Melchert and Gary Krueger represented the class on the Homecoming court.

Class officers were Gail Kroner, president; Dick Lathrop, vice-president; Lois Melchert, secretary; and Maxine Loritz, treasurer.

Mike Lotter, treasurer; Kathy Muehl, vice-president; Natalie Sager, president; Virginia Melchert, secretary.

SOPHOMORES

The first project of the Sophomores was their homecoming float, "We'll Race to a Victory." Serving as their candidates on the Court were Judy Stritzel and Gary Meyer.

The Sophomores took first place in the annual charity drive, with Barbara Van Vuren and Leonard Schnabl ruling as the King and Queen over the dance.

Class officers were Natalie Sager, president; Kathy Muehl, vice-president; Virginia Melchert, secretary; and Mike Lotter, treasurer.

The Freshmen entered school this year with the largest class, consisting of 182 members.

They started the year with "We'll Be Headin' for a Victory" as their float theme, which won third place in design. Ronald Knaack and Cheryl Mueller were the candidates for the court.

They sponsored an all-school party on March 2.

The class officers were Charles Kellogg, president; Richard Lubinski, vice-president; Maribeth Hartwig, secretary; and Gary Lathrop, treasurer.

The Student Council is the largest organization in the school which represents the student body. The actual Council is composed of a representative from each homeroom and the president of each of the four classes. It is their job to represent their homerooms on any ideas, problems, or questions which may arise at one of the monthly meetings.

This organization, like any other, has officers including: president, Chris Anschutz; vice-president, Marlin Nelson; secretary, Phyllis Krahn; and treasurer, Mary Zuleger. It is the president's job to run the meetings and to stand as the recognized head of the Council. The vice-president, who takes the place of the president when necessary, is the chairman of two of the standing committees. The secretary must keep all official reports of the meetings and act as secretary to the president. The treasurer keeps record of all receipts and expenditures of the Council, which includes S.A.F. funds. This fund is made up of five dollars paid by each of the S.A.F. members, which entitles them free entrance to all school activities.

The Student Council has as advisers, Mr. George Behrendt and Mr. Floyd Smith, who advise and inform the Council on any issues or matters which include interpretation of school policy or any other problems.

Scholarship, leadership, service, and character were the qualities by which eight new seniors and fourteen new juniors were inducted into the National Honor Society on March 27, 1962. The Society's main purpose is to promote scholarship. All honor duties, such as posting honor rolls and raising the flag, are reserved for NHS members.

Membership in the Society is earned by displaying the four essential qualities of an ideal person, being a junior or senior, and maintaining a high "B" average. The faculty selects members from all students who are eligible.

Advising the NHS is Mr. George Behrendt. Officers included: Bonnie Drephal, president; Chris Anschutz, vice-president; Jean Banker, secretary; and Lynn Stritzel, treasurer.

The Guide-O-Ways is a service organization composed of Junior and Senior boys and girls. The service which these students render is ushering at such events deemed appropriate by the Administration or Student Council. The boys direct traffic at football games and usher and maintain order at basketball games. They also usher at Open House. The girls hand out programs at concerts, Baccalaureate, Commencement, the Senior Class Play, and basketball and football games. They also usher at the Senior Class Play, Commencement, Baccalaureate, concerts, and Open House.

All points earned by working at these events during their junior and senior years are received by the students in their senior year.

Guide-O-Ways also entered a float in the Homecoming Parade this year. It was entitled, "We'll Usher Them Down."

Officers for the year were Paula Kay Reed, president; and Miriam Tubbs, secretary-treasurer; while Mr. Lorence Schnur served as adviser to the group.

The Safety Club was under the direction of Mr. Norman Gesteland, adviser; Andrea Hanson, president; Janet Kleist, vice-president; Marilyn Lembcke, treasurer; and Sharon Larson, secretary.

The club sent representatives to the Outagamie Teen-Age Safety Council, which held monthly meetings in the courthouse at Appleton. Representatives were Andrea Hanson, Lois Hansen, Nancy Schmit, Mark Ulmer, and Jerry Tierney.

The club carried out a number of activities this year, including the entry of a float entitled "The Chips Are Stacked Against the Blue Devils" in the Homecoming parade. The club also participated in National Safety Week by sponsoring a safety poster contest and made a field trip to the county traffic court in Appleton on March 9.

With three concerts this year the choral groups have presented many new songs to the public. New this year was the Boys Chorus. Mrs. Thomas Landwehr was the director.

Seymour High School had many groups representing each classification in the solo-ensemble contest, held April 7, at Appleton.

Newly organized this year was a group known as the Dance Club, under the supervision of Miss Richter, girls physical education instructor. Members of this group performed during half-times at basketball games by doing such dances as square dances and waltzes.

The Dance Band, under the leadership of Mr. Flanagan, band director, played at various functions during the past school year. For the first time the Dance Band played at the Mid-Winter Concert, in which the regular band and the choruses also performed. The picture below shows this group as they appeared at the concert.

DEBATE

This year, debate had a busy season under the direction of Mrs. Thomas Landwehr, going to a debate institute at Madison and practice debates at Rhinelander, Appleton, Kaukauna, and Preble. The District Debate was held at Green Bay East, with Seymour winning two and losing four. At the conference, Seymour kept the title of "Conference Champions" by being in the three-way tie for first. The topic this year was: "Resolved that the federal government should equalize educational opportunity by means of grants to the states for public elementary and secondary education." This topic was debated on the "A" level by Millie Considine and David Hopkins. On the negative side were Richard Piehl and Sue Moriearty.

ONE-ACT PLAY

Seymour's one-act play for this year was "Sunday Costs Five Pesos." Portraying the characters in the play were Marlin Nelson, Fidel; Phyllis Krahn, Berta; Joan Stueflat, Salome; Barbara Gardner, Tonia; and Sharon Murphy, Celestina. Mr. Anthony Sittarich was director, and Lynn Turkow assisted as student director.

The story is a hilarious comedy based on an old Mexican law which states, "A woman starting a fight on Sunday must pay a fine of five pesos."

The play received a "B" rating in the one-act play contest held in Oconto.

DRAMATICS CLUB

Fifty Dramatics Club members, under the leadership of Connie Husman, president; Ben Seehafer, vice-president; Susan Sutliff, secretary; Mary Gosse, treasurer; and Mrs. Charles Jenkins, adviser, participated in dramatic events this year.

The year's activities started with their entry in the Homecoming Parade, a float based on the slogan, "We Can-Can Win." The float depicted a can-can chorus with a tinny piano and singer.

At Christmas the club presented the Nativity Scene and a Talent Show. In February the members attended the production of the musical comedy, "Bells Are Ringing," at St. Norbert College.

During regular meetings other activities were enjoyed. Make-up lessons were given one night, a Chinese fantasy, "Turtle Dove," was performed, and Mr. Willard Reese spoke on his recent trip to Russia. The year ended with a picnic in the spring.

Nearly fifty students participated in the local forensics contest held on February 17. Those who received "A's" went on to the District Contest at Oshkosh on March 24. After receiving "A's" at District, Barbara Gardner, original oratory; David Hopkins, four-minute speech; and Judy Dryden, interpretive poetry, went on to the State Contest, at Madison, on April 14. Those receiving "B" ratings at District were Phyllis Krahn, Joan Stueflat, Byron Kasperek, Carolyn Gritt, Susan Sutliff, Janet Reese, Beth Veitch, Bonnie Drephal, and Mary Gosse.

On March 1 the students participated in the League Contest at Algoma for the conference trophy. Here "A" ratings were received by David Hopkins, Phyllis Krahn, Byron Kasperek, Barbara Gardner, Joan Stueflat, Carolyn Gritt, Judy Dryden, and Mary Lou Krizek.

Forensics coaches were Miss Rothe, chairman; Miss Faulds, Miss Holmes, and Mr. Sittarich.

"Appreciate Wisconsin" was the state goal carried out by the ninety-two members of the Future Homemakers of America this year. Skits were given on Wisconsin, and research was done on the history of our local communities. Some of the projects included: a rally with three other chapters, a big and little sister program, making stuffed toys for a children's hospital, and a lyceum.

Selling food at the football and basketball games was the major money-making project.

The Mother-Daughter Banquet is always the climax of the year's activities. Other activities are Initiation, Style Show, Demonstration Contest, and serving at the FFA Banquet.

Summer activities include: the State Convention at Green Lake, the County Dress Revue and the construction of a booth at the County Fair.

Officers for this past year were Linda Lou Court, president; Miriam Tubbs, vice-president; Diane Staley, secretary; Sharon Gorges, treasurer; Mary Nelson, reporter; Ruth Lehrer, historian; Natalie Sager, parliamentarian; Barbara Trost, recreation leader. Advisers were Mrs. Vivian Trembl, Mrs. Penny Coffin, and Miss Marguerite Sutherland.

Future Farmers of America

The Seymour Chapter of the Future Farmers of America was under the leadership of Tom Birling, president; Harlan Mueller, reporter; Ken Platten, secretary; Bob Moehring, sentinel; and Jim Doersch, treasurer.

Earlier in the year the Seymour FFA decided to send one of its members on the FFA European tour. Tom Birling was selected to go. The main project of the FFA, therefore, was to raise money for the tour. Much cooperation was needed between the officers, the members, and the advisers, Mr. Harold Tech and Mr. Oliver Lerum.

One of the Seymour FFA members, Zane Zuleger, was selected to represent Outagamie County at the Annual Farm Bureau Convention.

The chapter was also named one of the top ten chapters in the district along the line of cooperative enterprises.

The senior FFA members will be taking their annual fishing trip in June.

The BLUE JAY this year became a weekly page in Seymour's weekly paper, the "Seymour Press." During the first semester the newly formed journalism class had a perfect opportunity to learn and practice journalistic techniques by working with professionals. At the end of the first semester the BLUE JAY became extra-curricular, with staff positions open to other students.

Stritzel and Otto Uecker, co-sports editors; and Zane Zuleger, agriculture editor. Herman Miller was student photographer.

Re-activated this year was the Seymour Chapter of the Quill and Scroll Society, the international journalism organization for high school writers. Twenty-five students who did important work on either or both the BLUE JAY and RIPPER became members of this group.

Besides doing work in high school journalism, students must be of junior or senior standing and rank in the upper-third of their class scholastically. Members can be added at any time during the school year.

Mr. Floyd Smith, with the help of Miss Morva Faulds, ran the efficient Guidance Center in room 174. The receptionists were provided by the business education department. Rosemary Hackel, Bonnie Jach, Helen Van Kauwenberg, Jeannette Van Doorn, Mary Zuleger, Joyce Brick, and Rosemary Jach acted as the receptionists. The work done by these girls in this department serves as part of the grade they receive in their office practice class, which is headed by Miss Delores Holmes.

The receptionists also do the necessary typing in the Guidance Center and the filing of important papers and booklets.

The small, but important, library within the center carries information concerning colleges within and outside the state of Wisconsin, and booklets on careers and public relations. Information on military careers and job opportunities are also filed here.

Mr. Smith is in charge of arranging the conferences between the students and college representatives when college entrance is discussed. The giving of aptitude tests is another of his many jobs.

OFFICE WORKERS

These three senior girls worked in the office this year and did numerous jobs in the office to assist the secretaries, Mrs. Trudy Nagel and Mrs. Ruth Staley. Their duties helped the girls gain experience for a regular job. For working in the office, the assistants received points toward a letter.

It was a busy year for the Latin Club. Homecoming time saw the club win second place in the Theme Division of the Parade. The theme of their float was "We Wooden Horse Around."

A Latin booth was displayed in the multi-purpose room for Open House, and members presented their interpretation of a Roman basketball game at a pep assembly. February was again banquet time, as the teachers of S.U.H.S. enjoyed themselves Roman style. Togas were the order of the day when teachers became gods at Jupiter's feast of the gods.

Something new was introduced when another Latin Club was invited to Seymour for an exchange of ideas. In co-operation with the French Club, the Latin Club also presented the annual language lyceum for the enjoyment of the student body and visiting eighth-graders. For Parents Night, held in May, club members brought their parents to see and share the activities of the club.

At monthly meetings the members learned more about the Roman way of life. Roman games, food, and customs, initiation of new club members, and a talk about Switzerland were included in the programs. Guidance and leadership for the events of this fifth year of the Latin Club were provided by Mrs. Jensen, adviser; and the officers: Mary Krohlow, president; Richard Piehl, vice-president; Mary Mory, secretary; Mary Gosse, treasurer; Kathleen Hallam, reporter; and Beth Veitch and Ginny Melchert, historians.

The French Club was under the direction of Mrs. Wayne Jensen, adviser; Carla Decker, president; Jim Tubbs, vice-president; Diane Lange, secretary; Miriam Tubbs, treasurer; Kathy Parks, reporter; and Pam Baehler and Colleen Doersch, historians.

The French Club took first place in the homecoming parade theme division with the float, "We'll French Fry 'em." During the year the French Club also held a joint meeting with the Latin Club.

Meetings, consisting of business and an informative program, were held monthly. At one meeting Miriam Tubbs spoke on her trip to Switzerland during the summer. At meetings French Club members were called by their French name.

The French Club also started something new by purchasing French berets which they wore to basketball games and other school activities.

Pam Baehler, Judy Tierney, and Colleen Doersch wear French berets with the word "Allons," meaning "Let's Go!"

The Bookworm Club, made up of students who act as student librarians and others interested in library work, was under the guidance of Mrs. Charles Jenkins, adviser; and officers: Jean Banker, president; Byron Kasperek, vice-president; Mary Zuleger, secretary; Darlene Marcks, treasurer; Pat Dey, historian; and Mary Krohlow, reporter.

In the Homecoming Parade, the Bookworms entered a float entitled "Victory Is Due Today," which took second place in the theme division.

Bookworm members may earn a library pin to be awarded at the end of the year by assisting with bulletin boards and displays, working at the circulation desk, making posters, and working on the "Bookworm News," a newspaper distributed to all high school students describing new books and other items of interest.

During the year the Bookworms also sold pocket books, which not only provided them with a small profit but also increased the interest of students toward reading.

To develop a better knowledge of science, twenty-eight members of the Science Club met on the third Monday of every month in room 104. Mr. Robert Wolk, Mr. Edward Mealy, and Mr. Ray Gulbrand were the advisers. David Hopkins presided over the meetings, along with Pat Edwards, vice-president; Joan Stueflat, secretary; and Jerry Vissers, treasurer.

The members met for the purpose of furthering their knowledge of science and also to learn the importance of science in every day life.

Projects, demonstrating scientific interest among the students, were completed throughout the year. Any Seymour High School student interested in photography had the opportunity to learn developing procedures and techniques of picture taking. Classes were conducted by student photographers.

One project conducted by the Science Club was providing music throughout the noon hour. Eating lunch to music was enjoyed by everyone.

Setting up microphones and other equipment for lyceums was also among the many responsibilities of the Science Club members.

David Hopkins plays music over P.A. system during noon hour.

Science Club enters its first float in Homecoming parade.

Varsity Football

About 30 boys reported for varsity football in the middle of August. Under coaches John Thomsen and Carl Ibe, these boys dedicated themselves to football for two months.

The first game was against a powerful Weyauwega team, which scored two quick touchdowns and led at the half, 21-0. A determined Seymour line held Weyauwega scoreless the second half, but the Indians failed to score and lost, 21-0.

The Indians traveled to Oconto Falls and were defeated, 12-0. After spotting the Falls two touchdowns, Seymour easily outplayed them the rest of the game. Numerous Oconto players were injured as a result of the hard-charging Indian line.

The Indians hosted Kewaunee and were beaten, 25-0. Next, West DePere edged Seymour in a defensive battle, 12-8. Ben Seehafer scored the Indians' first touchdown and Seymour also scored a safety.

Next was another game on a rainsoaked field at Algoma. Seymour failed to capitalize on many scoring opportunities and trailed at the half, 7-0. After Algoma scored again, Dave Roskom made a touchdown and extra point for the Indians. The Wolves held off further Indian threats to win 13-7.

Seymour continued their spirited play at Preble, but lost to the co-champs 20-0. The Indians held Preble to their lowest point total of the season. Failure to move the pigskin again plagued Seymour.

The Indians dropped the homecoming game to Oconto, 12-7. Roskom and Seehafer moved well on the ground, but the Oconto line held firmly when Seymour threatened to score. Bob Heagle scored the only Indian touchdown and Roskom tallied the extra point.

DePere downed the Indians next, 21-0. The Redbird line was just too powerful for the smaller Indians, who again showed spirited play.

Sturgeon Bay beat the Indians in the final game, 26-0. The Indians found it very difficult to run through a very tough Clipper defense. This was the last game for eleven seniors, who gave the fans many thrills throughout the year.

Wrestling

This was the first year that wrestling at S.H.S. was on a competitive basis with other schools. Seymour was a member of the Bayland Conference, which also included Pulaski, Preble, Green Bay East, and Green Bay West.

The team, coached by John Thomsen and Loren Cismoski, finished the season with a total of two wins and 10 losses. The boys, however, gained valuable experience for next year. The team was composed of underclassmen, including many sophomores and freshmen.

Everette Wilkinson and Sam Rettler were most consistent winners for Seymour. Everette won by pins nine times and lost only once in dual meets. In tournament action, Rettler and Wilkinson were the only Seymour wrestlers to win a match.

Allen McClone and Mike Lotter, both sophomores, also showed good potential for next year. About 20 freshman boys will also add strength to next year's team.

Junior Varsity Basketball

The Junior Varsity basketball team, coached by Mr. Charles Regez, finished the year with a 4-14 record. The team was composed mostly of sophomores, plus a few freshmen.

Charles Kellogg was the leading scorer with 140 points. He was followed by Wayne Graul with 108 and John Kroner with 99. Len Schnabl took the most rebounding and also tallied 81 points. Charles Krahn rounded out the scoring with 65 markers.

Although they failed to win many games, these boys played hard and gained the experience they will have to replace four varsity starters who graduate this year.

Freshman Basketball

Under Coach Don Chambers the Seymour frosh compiled a 4-10 record, posting victories over Pulaski, Preble, and twice over Oconto Falls. One of their better games was against a superior Clintonville five, as they almost upset the Truckers in a fourth quarter rally.

Ron Knaack topped the frosh scorers with 147 points in 14 games. He was also the best rebounder. Don Kettner was second in the scoring race with 90 points. Steve Van Vuren totaled 79. Individual game honors went to Knaack, who poured in 19 against West DePere and Kettner, who made 18 at Oconto Falls.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The Seymour Indians began the 1961-62 season's practice early in November. Six lettermen from the previous season greeted new head coach Carl Ibe.

The Indians opened the campaign with two non-loop losses at Hortonville and New London. Seymour came up with its initial victory against Bonduel, 56-44, with Steve Prelipp scoring 29 points.

Conference play began and SHS lost a tight one to Oconto, 54-47, after trailing at one time, 12-0. A strong Pulaski five downed the Indians; next followed defeats by West DePere and Sturgeon Bay.

The Indians notched their first conference win by easily dropping Oconto Falls, 56-44. Bob Butters led the way with 31 points. After dropping a thriller at Bonduel, the Indians scalped DePere, 65-54. Ben Seehafer paced the scoring attack with 24 points. Fine rebounding and shooting by Lynn Stritzel also were deciding factors in this victory.

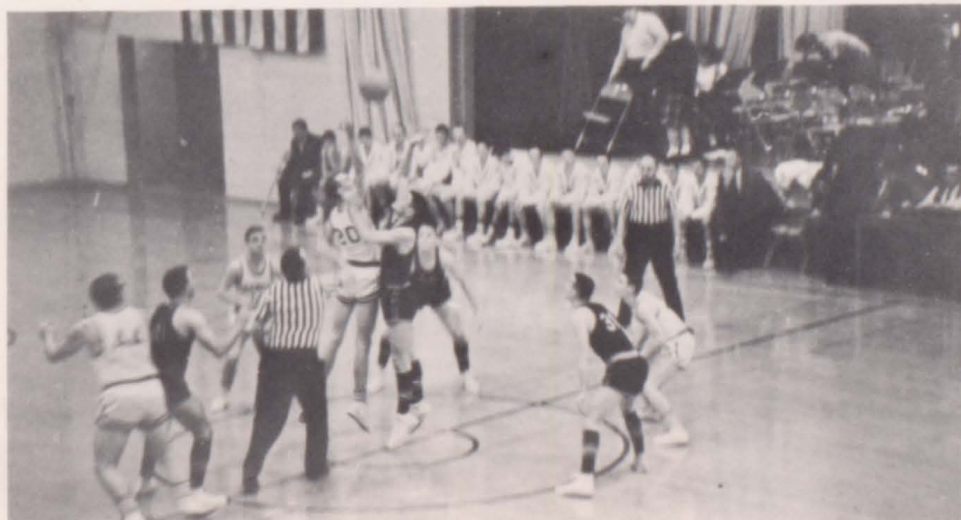

Next came the best teams in the Northeastern Wisconsin conference. The Indians stayed close to champion Kewaunee for three quarters but couldn't overcome their balance. Seymour led Algoma at the half, 35-30. The loss of Edwards and Stritzel via fouls cut short the Indians' rebounding power, with a resulting loss, 79-60. Prelipp, however, tallied 36 points.

Following losses to Oconto and Pulaski, Seymour played one of its best games of the season against West DePere. The Indians played a beautiful floor game and shot 40%. West DePere, however, shot 56% and won, 74-68. Prelipp and Seehafer scored 30 and 21, respectively.

The Indians dropped their final conference games to Sturgeon Bay and Oconto Falls. At the Green Bay tournament Seymour was beaten by West DePere, 71-49. This was the last game for six seniors.

Although the SHS victory column was not top-heavy, the boys played with wonderful spirit and provided the spectators with some real showmanship basketball. The main problem of the team was generally poor rebounding. With better rebounding and more power in the middle, the outcomes of many games might have been reversed.

Edwards wins tip in Oconto Falls game, won by the Indians, 66-54.

Cross Country

The 1961 Cross Country team had a fine season under head coach Loren Cismoski. There were about 25 boys on the team. A majority of these were juniors, and the team will lose only one of the top runners from this year.

Harlan Mueller and Phil Summers usually fought it out for first place honors. Other top runners were Roger Mielke, Lee Enrico, and Bob Butters. All return next year except Butters. Harlan Mueller went to the State Meet and finished in eleventh place.

The team finished the season with a 6-3 record in dual meets. They also finished seventh in the Shawano Invitational and third in the Sectional at Berlin.

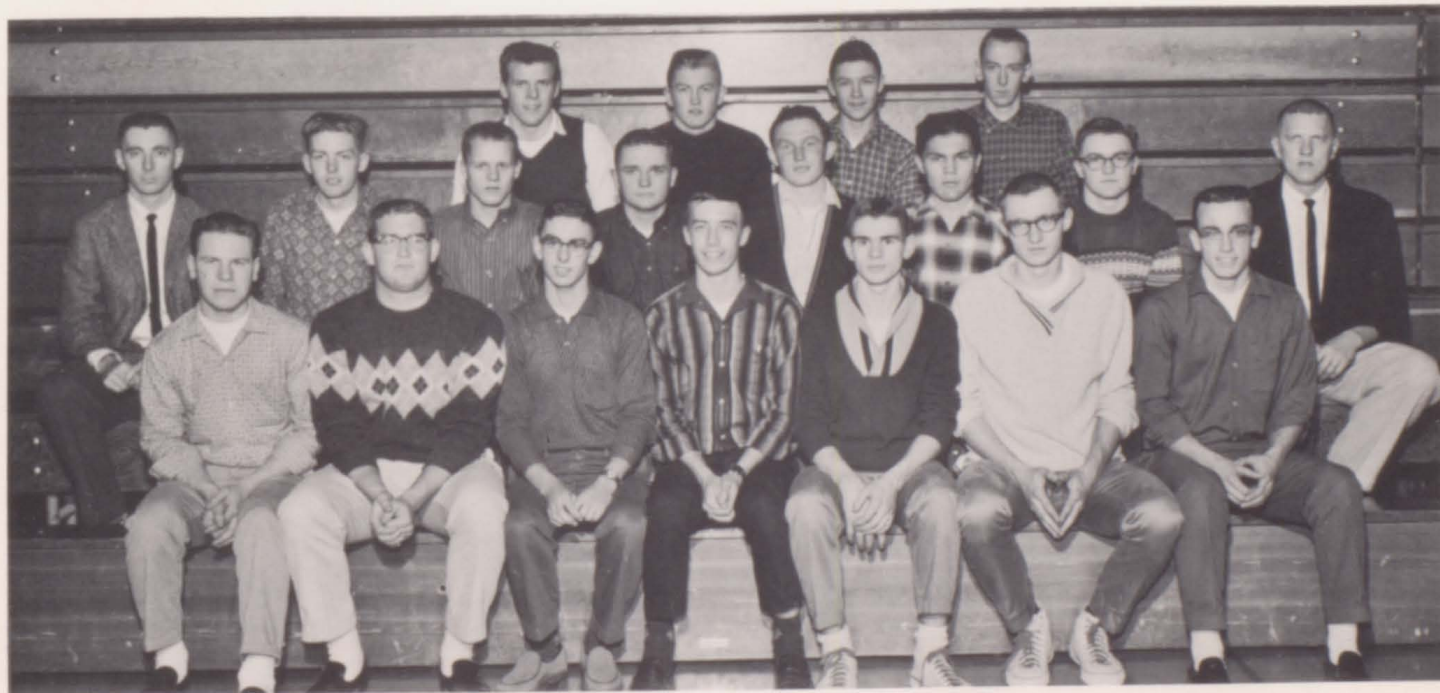

Boys from the B team who may earn a varsity berth next year include Len Schnabl, Gary Hodkiewicz, and Ken Bosin.

Lettermen's Club

The Lettermen's Club is composed of all athletes who have earned a letter in any sport while they are in high school. This year there were about thirty boys in the club. The advisers are Mr. Charles Regez and Mr. Carl Ibe.

The main duty of the club is to try to interest more boys in the school to participate in the sports program.

They also enter a float in the homecoming parade, sponsor a movie, and present an award to the outstanding senior athlete each year. The club president this year was Mike Puls. Ben Seehafer was vice-president and Bob Butters was treasurer.

This year for the first time the girls in GAA held a Basketball Sports Day at S.H.S. Three area schools participated in this event on February 10.

An A team and a B team, consisting of 30 girls, traveled to Freedom, February 3, to play basketball with the Freedom GAA. Five girls also represented Seymour at the Neenah Play Day on February 24.

In March the GAA bowlers again participated in a state-wide mailographic bowling tournament.

Late in April five girls attended the annual Play Day at La Crosse State College.

The officers for the year were as follows: Sandy Page, president; Gail Kroner, vice-president; Sally Henn, secretary-treasurer; Sport-heads: Joyce Vanden Heuvel, bowling; Mary Gosse, basketball; Susan Sutliff, volleyball; Sharon Runnoe, badminton; and Mary Stritzel, softball.
