... A Moment of Youth
A moment of experiencing
In the creation of an artistic form
Learning
From hours of study
Participating
In an athletic field
A moment to find one's self
In abilities and talents
A moment of youth
To chase a goal
To express an idea
To match steps
With a rapidly coming future

A moment of concentration
 In the final decision
 A moment of laughter
When the classroom allows
 Finding in both
A newly developed character
 A moment of organization
 In standing in line
A moment of relaxation
 In social participation
 Discovering that both
Aid the student towards
 Tomorrow
The other side of youth

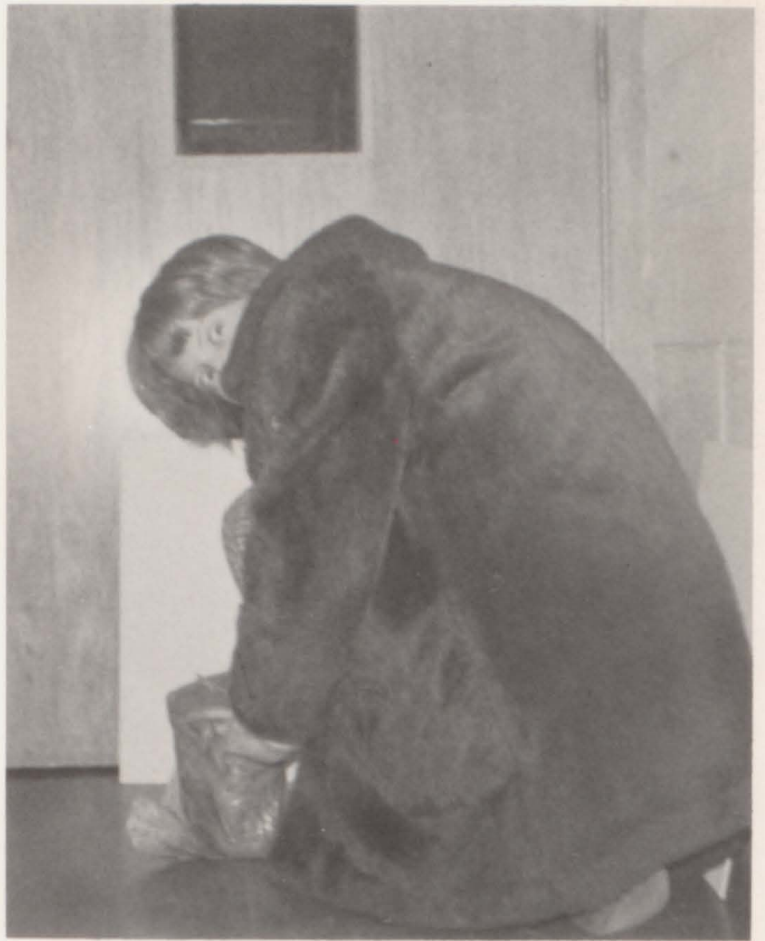

These moments of youth
Are shared everyday
The experience
The learning
And the participation
Are passed from one to another
And in this moment
A time is saved to show
A classmate
A teacher
A fellow athlete
The qualities of fellowship
And respect
Acquired in youth

A moment of youth
To set aside the foolish ways
And start anew
A moment of youth
That sets the youth on the path
To become a learned adult
And at this moment
To become an individual
A moment of youth
To keep in rhythm with the present
And a moment to foresee
In all the uncertainties of tomorrow
That there shall be a moment of youth
To remember when this moment is gone

MOMENTS OF TEACHING

Always impartial, Mr. Sittarich calls on two first graders to help him reach a decision.

The Faculty Band added a humorous note to Homecoming festivities.

Senior Jack Maass discusses vocational plans with Miss Severson.

ART

Art is offered to all students except freshmen. Basic fundamentals of observation are taught the first year. More difficult projects of oil painting, printmaking, and sculpture, the second year. Students in third year started new projects of experimenting with stained glass, the potter's wheel, and various fields of metals.

MUSIC

Chorus and band are offered to all students. The band used "Music Arts", a workbook which teaches the art of writing music. The students were encouraged to compose pieces for the band to play. The band also listened to works of great composers. The chorus received a choral appreciation text. Chart of rhythm patterns and composers' lives were used.

GUIDANCE

SCHS Guidance Center provides the student with the facilities to learn about the educational and job opportunities available to them after graduation. The guidance department invited representatives from area colleges to come with information of their school. Extensive information on vocational fields was also available for many commercial and vocational students.

HOME ECONOMIC

A new system was adopted in home economic this year which requires more thinking and participation on the part of the students. The new book, The Developing Child, utensils, and appliances were added. Miss Knipp, the student teacher helped out during the second quarter.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Instruction in gymnastics utilizing the new vaulting box and springboard were introduced. For the first time in several years the parallel bars, ropes, and rings were used by both boys and girls. The girls attempted a unit of interpretive dance.

AGRICULTURE

The farming program plays an important role in ag. This program was carried out by the individual student on his home farm or place of employment. It gave students practical experience in the field of agriculture that at times surpassed the class work.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

A new program of joint exchange of students was developed. This exchange was between SCHS and Pulaski High. Offered for Senior boys only was a new metals class. New machines were also added to the classroom.

SCIENCE

An advanced Biology course was added to the list of Senior electives offered this year. Two new biology books were used in this class, the BSCS Blue Version and Element's of Biology. The Plant Growth and Development and Animal Behavior lab blocks were being used with the text. The addition of the Climatorium helped students set up controlled environmental center in which plants and animals can be observed.

Chemistry classes, an elective for Juniors and Seniors also had a new text, Modern Chemistry. The lab workbook supplemented the text.

The Physics department continued its experiment course in Nuclear Investigations. It was carried on through the cooperative efforts of the Atomic Energy commission, Montana State University and our school.

MATH

Math is offered all four years at SCHS. Freshmen are allowed to take either general math or algebra I. In turn the sophomores are encouraged to take Modern Geometry but it is also an elective for Juniors and Seniors. For Seniors interested in additional math courses Trigonometry and Advanced Math are offered. Some interested students in the latter course attended a lecture on mathematics dealing with the computer.

COMMERCIAL

The adoption of new procedures and equipment helped students in the commercial department train for business careers. A complete preparatory program was offered to business students with a capstone course for seniors, making it possible for them to graduate fully trained for a job. Students worked mainly from three text—Understanding Modern Business, Data Processing, and Business Data Processing—and made use of the key punch and card sorting machines which were in their first full years of use. In addition, students were able to work in two hour blocks, improving their concentration.

LIBRARY

Many new books were added to the library in various fields. A very important addition to the library was Mrs. Jenkins part-time secretary. For the first year, an Honors Reading group was started. It was made up of voluntary students coming from the Junior and Senior classes. A novel a month was the required reading. An informal group discussion of the novel was the function of the meeting.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

The essence of schooling is to equip students to live and prosper in the outside world. Five courses of social sciences are offered in the school's curriculum, including Civics, World History, U.S. History, Geography, and American Problems.

LANGUAGE

This year, a twenty four unit language lab was added for the use of the French classes. The lab includes a stereo console with record player and tape recordings. This unit increases the oral aspect of the language and allows for individual progress since several different tapes can be played simultaneously. The teacher operates the console, and can speak to individual students as well as to the class as a whole, thus increasing, the amount of direct individual counselling available to each student. This is not possible in an ordinary class situation.

ENGLISH

Four new courses were added to the English Department curriculum this year. The class which was formerly Speech and Advance Composition was split into two separate courses. Speech, for Juniors and Seniors, was a one semester course. Another Junior-Senior class Advanced Composition experimented with the new SRA transparencies, to help clarify and illustrate basic concepts. Another new course, Practical Communications, concentrated on the fine points of grammar and usage. Also offered for the first time was Remedial Reading for many English classes used a Readers Digest supplement and a weekly magazine entitled Scope.

Part of everyday routine of Mrs. Mueller was the answering of the phones in the office.

SECRETARIES, NURSE, COOKS, CUSTODIANS

Three new members were added to the secretarial staff of the SCHS system. Two of the new secretaries worked in the Administration Building west of the high school. The third, working part time was private secretary and assistant to Mrs. Jenkins in the library.

Mrs. Freemore, R.N. and secretaries; Mrs. Hillegas, Mrs. Mueller, and Mrs. Gardner were familiar faces to the student body as school began in September although Mrs. Gardner had moved to the Guidance Center to assume duties that dealt primarily with guidance and student affairs. Mrs. Freemore became advisor to the newly formed Future Nurses Club.

The seven members of the SCHS family who received the least recognition all year were the three cooks and four custodians who kept the high school running smoothly. Though always in the background they preformed efficiently and cheerfully throughout the 1967-1968 school year.

GRADUATION—A MOMENT OF YOUTH PASSES

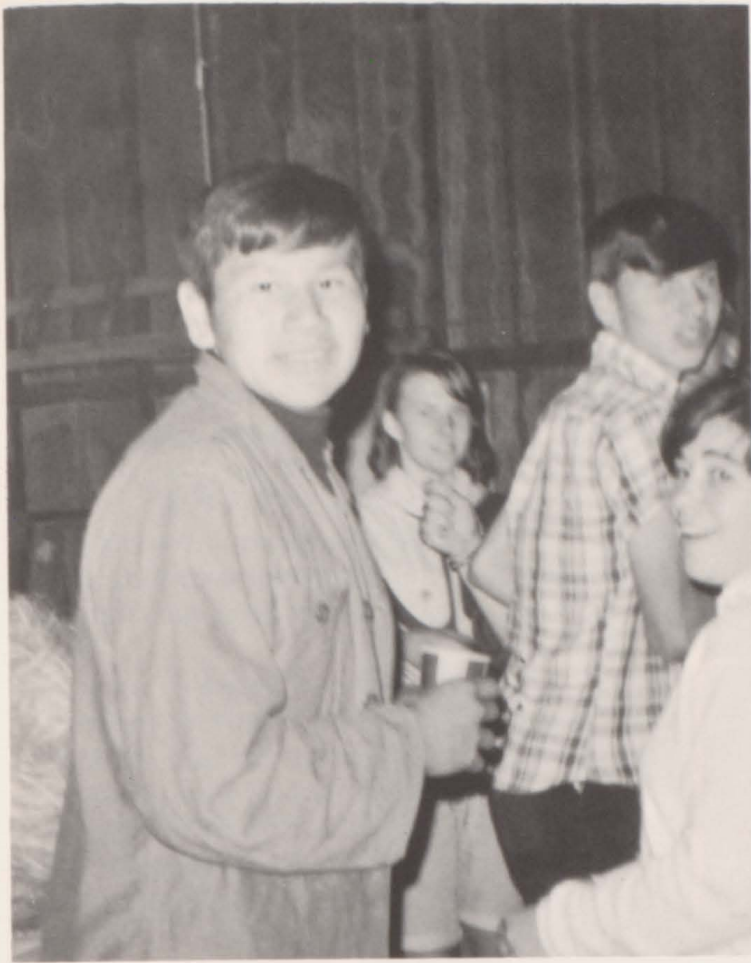

Senior Jack Nelson presents his SAF card to Miss Vander Putten for admission to a basketball game.

Diane Doersch, realized as we all did, that we had to make the most of our study time.

Ranee Heike payed many visits to her locker these last years.

Homecoming was the first time that we as Seniors worked together as a class.

For Judy Hooyman, as for the rest of the Seniors, receiving her pictures was important.

Homecoming was complete for us, as Seniors, when our float took first honors.

Our senior year ... the end of the beginning

We started the last year as one; no factions separating a class destined for the setting of goals, hopes, and graduation. We entered these halls, again not eagerly, but now with the end of the beginning in sight. . .

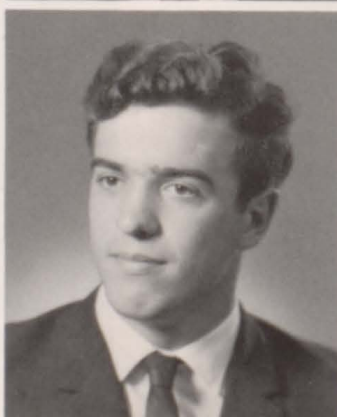

We stood on the sidelines of our first year until as Sophomores we got into the game. As mighty Juniors we grabbed the ball and started running for the fourth year. We received our class rings and passed the Prom to make us complete and finally Seniors. We went wild at the winning of our last Homecoming game, especially since the Senior float was first in all categories.

We took victories and loses in sports in stride since we had more important matters of the future confronting us. Should we attend college or vocational school? Should we consider a job after graduation or the military field? We struggle for an idea, a hope, an ambition. On our own we must make the best decision for the best possible future.

Award and summer students are recognized

SUMMER STUDENTS

Ten SCHS students participated in summer programs at colleges or universities in 1967.

Senior Kyle Pasch attended a two-week Journalism Workshop at the University of Wisconsin in Madison, and studied year book journalism and editing. The course was valuable training for Kyle, who edited the 1968 Ripper.

Also attending the University of Wisconsin program was Nancy Peters, a Sophomore. Nancy, assistant editor of the Arrowhead, studied newspaper editing and journalism.

Kathy Jenkins, also a Senior, participated in the summer humanities institute at St. Olaf College Northfield, Minnesota. She studied the romantic movement in art, music, philosophy, and literature.

Steve Mory studied computerization for two weeks at Bradley University.

BADGER STATE

Jackie Huettl, Christine Witthun, Kent Abel and Dave Lueck were chosen as Badger State representatives on the basis of their scholastic achievement, character, and leadership qualities.

DAR AWARD

Cathy Moeller was named this year's DAR Girl. She was selected by classmates and teachers for character, dependability, patriotism and leadership.

Students who attended various summer school programs are: S. Mory, K. Pasch, N. Peters and K. Jenkins.

Sharon Zuleger received the 1968 Betty Crocker award.

Cathy Moeller was picked as Seymour's DAR girl.

Badger state candidates were J. Huettl, C. Witthuhn, K. Abel and D. Lueck.

An exchange of ideas through friendship

SUZI, FOREIGN EXCHANGE STUDENT

Suzi Reichenpfader, Seymour's fifth foreign exchange student arrived in Seymour on August 7, 1967. While in Seymour, Suzi, an only child, made her home with Dr. and Mrs. N. E. Heike, their four daughters and one son. Suzi's family in Vienna had previously hosted an exchange student from New York.

Suzi considered school in Austria more difficult than school in the United States. In addition to subjects such as history and math, there Suzi was required to study philosophy, psychology, and six languages including Greek, Latin, German, English, French, and Italian.

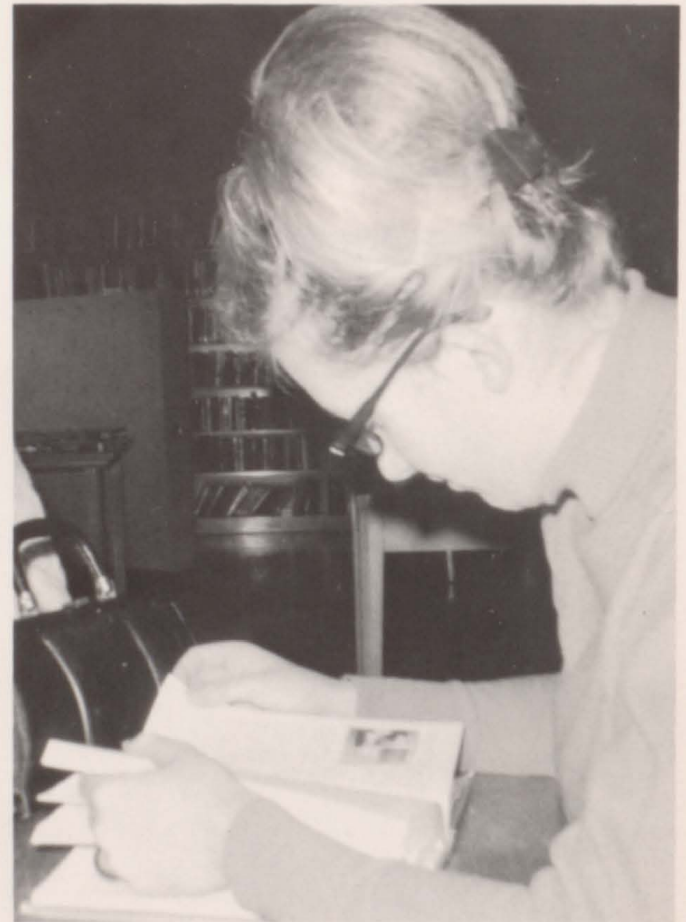

At SCHS Suzi's classes included U. S. History, shorthand, American problems, English, Mixed Chorus and physical education. She was an honorary member of all clubs and took an active part in them, including a part as a dancer in the operetta. She spent several weekends skiing, a sport in which she participated in at school in Vienna. As one of the AFS students in this area, she was invited to take part in three AFS Weekends. Suzi also attended the state Student Council Convention at Green Lake. In the future Suzi plans to go into journalism. When asked to compare Austrians and Americans she replied that there are many more similarities than differences and people are really the same everywhere.

The Seymour American Field Service chapter aided Suzi in coming to America. The chief functions of this organization were to raise funds for a student and to help the foreign exchange student feel welcome in Seymour. Several dances were held in the Seymour Municipal Building and an AFS Weekend was held in February with many AFS students from this area attending.

Suzi highlighted the Homecoming parade by appearing on the Latin Club float.

During her free period, Suzi joined the crowd in the library to study.

After a long hard day, Suzi is homeward bound with a pile of homework.

As the foreign exchange, Suzi takes an active part in the Student Council meetings.

MOMENTS OF PARTICIPATION

Freshmen student council members represented class interest at the council meetings.

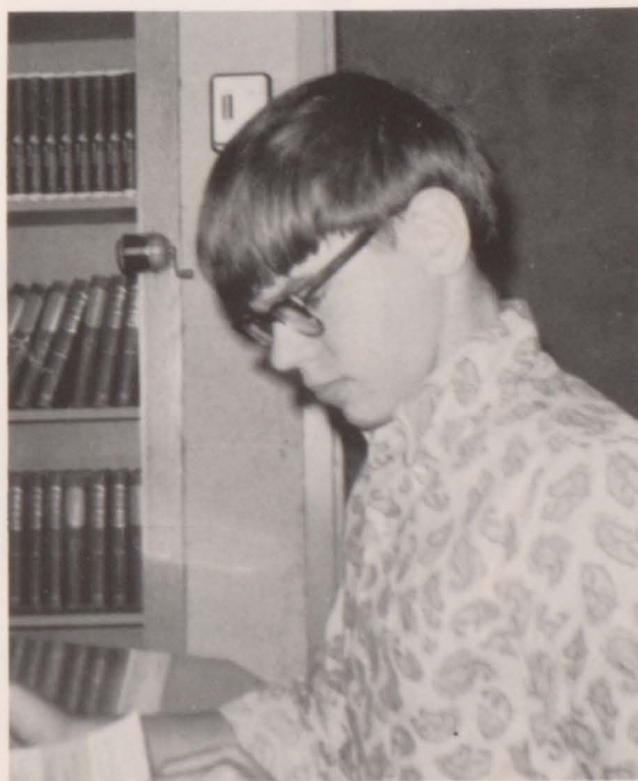

Sophomore boys learned the correct eye motion for speed reading.

Part of everyday was noon-hour, which sophomores Marie Schmidt and Bev Leisch made good use of.

Biology was a required class for all Sophomores of which Mike Olsen found to be interesting.

Kenneth Tischer, a new student this year to SCHS became an active part of the student's activities.

Today we follow . . . tomorrow we lead

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS: Pam Schroeder, Sec.; Barb Beilfuss, Treas.; Gary Stephani, V. Pres.; Dan Ossman, Pres.

With half the victory won, it was with much anticipation that we started to gain the other half which will be the realization of many dreams.

Our first major task was our homecoming float which after trial and error, took shape as a dog and dog house captioned with "We won't bow-wow to Oconto". We were ably represented at the dance by Barb Beilfuss and Peter King.

Then, though time seemed to drag at times in the classroom, the memorable things followed in rapid order — class rings, basketball games, and, of course, the culmination of the whole year, our Junior Prom.

This successful event was headed by Luanne Chambers and Jim Kluge. All committees were co-ordinated under their capable leadership and with hard work and ingenuity will truly be remembered as the high-light of the year.

The class was very active all year in extra-curricular activities. Notable of these were the operetta, band concerts, and football, basketball, track and baseball.

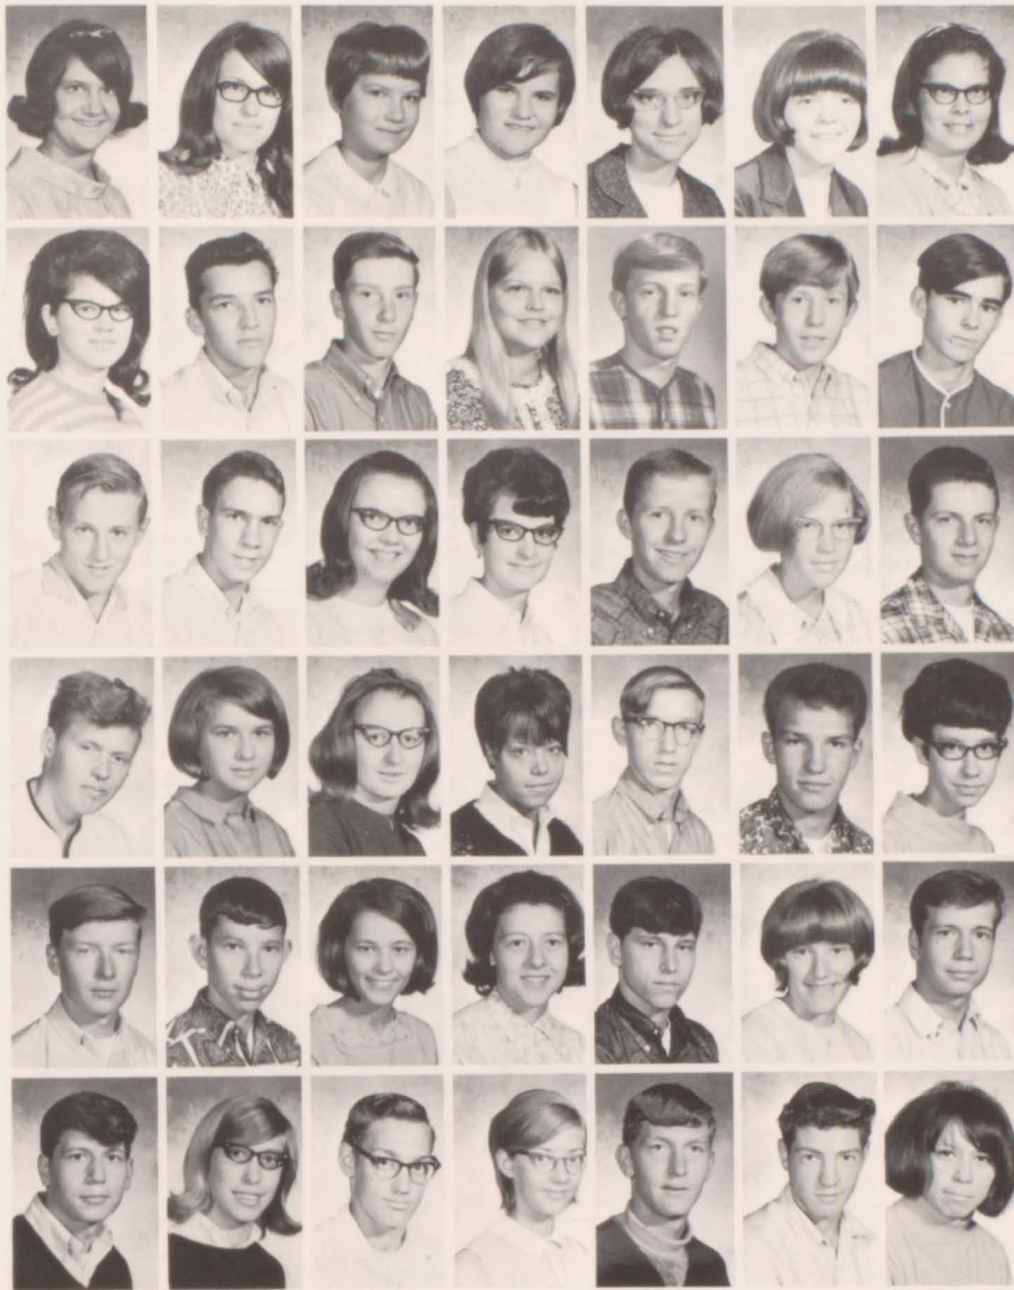

Steered by Mr. Greaves and other teachers under him as class advisor, we may look back on our junior ventures and file them in the pleasurable memory column.

On we trod eager and anxious

On September 5th, 1967, experienced sophomores tumbled thru SCHS doors. Here they renewed old friendships formed the previous year and swept away the mental cobwebs formed the past summer, prepared for another adventure in learning.

Several weeks were spent planning the homecoming float by Beverly Liesch and her committee. The week previous to the homecoming was spent energetically preparing this float which consisted of a huge St. Bernard with his tongue hanging out, emphasizing the theme "We'll Lick 'em." Two large St. Bernards led the prize winning float which achieved a rating of second in design. Jeff Malueg and Arla Grandy proudly represented the sophomore class during the festivities.

Early in the fall, thought was given to a sophomore sponsored dance held in honor of the freshmen. A committee, headed by Barb Sell, was chosen. The school gym was secured for January 19th. Colorful decorations enhanced the theme "High School is a Happening."

Another high-light of the class was the ordering of the symbolic metal bands that bind us to our beloved institution of learning-in-other words-our class rings.

A new and exciting adventure begun

Summer ended and the somewhat eager Freshmen were admitted into SCHS. There was a little confusion at first but after a few days of trial and error, things started to shape up for the Freshmen.

The Freshmen's first Homecoming was a great success. The class was well represented by Mike Huettl and his date Kathy Kaphingst after a winning Homecoming effort. The Freshmen erected a Volcano for their class float, with the title "We'll make it hot for the Blue Devils!" For the first time in several years, a float was not displayed on a wagon; as the Freshmen chose to carry theirs in the parade.

After the confusion of Homecoming had come and gone, the Freshmen settled down to work, on both school work and such projects as planning dances, gaining valuable experience in both activities for their year as underclassmen.

Mr. Day, Mr. Flanagan, and Miss Chase put forth a great deal of effort and time as class advisors in guiding the Freshmen through their first year at SCHS.

CHANGING MOMENTS IN YOUTH

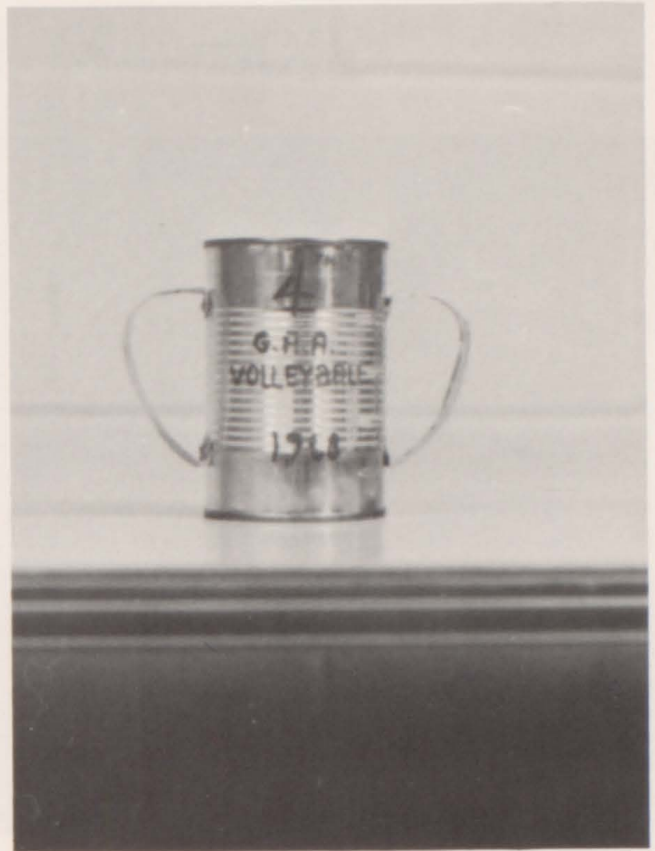

The French Club Halloween party will long be remembered by Seniors, Barb Reavis and Jackie Huettl.

An important part of the Homecoming activities and the school itself was the Senior band.

Mr. Butcher helped Alan Demerath in illustrating the correct method of achieving a clear tone.

GAA girls were proud of the team-work and skill it took in placing fourth in competition.

A very active part of GAA this year was basketball which all of the girls enjoyed.

"Onward on to victory"

Encouragement was given the players by the reigning royalty, King Jim and Queen Jeanne.

HOMECOMING

Homecoming festivities for 1967 began with a bonfire and pep rally on Thursday evening. As the Senior football players expressed their enthusiasm for the upcoming game, the fire flamed high.

On Friday afternoon, excitement was heightened at a pep assembly when the cheerleaders presented the skit "Seymour White", and when the faculty band played. Josh Klein and Jody Bathke presented the crowns to King Jim Anshutz and Queen Jeanne Judy.

The parade of floats, 1967 Royalty, Senior football players, cheerleaders, and band followed. This year the classes and clubs were allowed only four days to work on their floats. Rewarded for their effort were: Seniors, first place in design, with "We'll Klut 'Em Down", and French Club with "We'll Beheadin' For A Victory.

Students, faculty, and alumni cheered their team to a 25-0 victory over the Oconto Blue Devils. This was an especially exciting victory for the Indians since it was the first time in nine years Seymour had won a homecoming game. At the homecoming dance, rightfully entitled "Onward, On To Victory," couples danced to the music of Pete Peterson's Combo.

A cold night and a roaring bonfire set school spirit blazing.

Reigning over the 1967 Homecoming were King Jim Anshutz and Queen Jeanne Judy. Members of the court included: Seniors, Sandra Skodinski and Tom Cleven; Juniors, Barb Beilfuss and Peter King; Sophomores, Arla Grandy and Jeff Maleug, and Freshman, Kathy Kaphingst and Michael Huettl.

Running onto the field, the players were set for a victorious game.

Capturing the overall prize was the Senior float "We'll Klut 'Em Down."

Midsummer night's dream

Refreshments were served in an old-fashioned beer garden.

Junior Prom

The evening of April 22 marked the culmination of months of hectic labor by the Juniors as the 1967 Junior Prom, Midsummer Night's Dream, changed from dream to reality.

Early planning and the efficiency of chairman Jackie Huettl and co-chairman Jerry Garsow enabled the accomplishment of this memory-making evening.

Upon entering the gym, one was surrounded by the enchanting atmosphere of the Gay Nineties. The music of Gail Shepardson and his Orchestra added to the dreamlike quality of the setting.

Couples were able to stroll down a picturesque boardwalk and gaze at the majestic fountain spotlighted at the center of the gym. A shimmering pond spanned by a footbridge was set off by colorful trees.

A flower-covered gazebo was the setting of the coronation. Queen Sandra Skodinski and King Tom Clevon were crowned by Junior class president Jerry Garsow.

Mrs. Eleanor Piehl, Mr. Tom Day, Mr. Fred Johnson, Mr. Joseph Unrein, Mrs. Linda Repulski, Mr. Johnson Loud, and Mr. George Behrendt were advisors.

A park background provided the setting for couples to enjoy the music of Gail Shepardson's Orchestra.

Queen Sandra Skodinski and King Tom Cleven reigned over the 1967 Prom. Court attendants were: Lorelei Landwehr and Mark Riehl; Kathy Hill and Dennis Murphy, Pam Peotter and David Lueck; and Jeanne Judy and Glen Hill. Jennifer Huettl and Mark Cleven were crown bearers.

Queen Sandra and King Tom enjoy a dance together after the coronation.

Student librarian, Pat Simon, aids Jane Lubinski in finding a reference in the card catalogue.

STUDENT LIBRARIANS

Assistance in the SCHS library this year was given by fifty-one student librarians.

Working during their study halls these students carried out many duties essential in the efficient operation of the library. As may be expected, checking in and out books and magazines was their major library job. Other tasks assigned to the student librarians were making out fine slips, shelving books and magazines, and straightening the books on the shelves. The student librarians aided their fellow students by helping them to locate books and by encouraging them to use the vertical file.

In many instances the student librarians carried out many activities in close conjunction with the Bookworm Club which is also composed of students interested in the library.

Student librarians worked under the guidance of librarian, Mrs. Marjorie Jenkins. Their volunteer service proved invaluable in the operation of a library as large as the one at SCHS.

BOOKWORM CLUB

Students with an interest in the library made up the Bookworm Club of SCHS. In the interest of boosting school spirit, Bookworm members made posters for athletic events and displayed pep slogans in the library windows. The Bookworms also undertook the making of posters for National Library Week.

A Christmas party and the decoration of the library for the Christmas season kept the club busy during December. Another club project was the purchase of reproductions of art masterpieces for the library. Several of these lovely pictures were on display at a time so everyone was able to enjoy a variety of art throughout the year. A faculty coffee hour at which faculty members could examine new library books was also sponsored by the Bookworm Club.

Advising the Bookworms was Mrs. Marjorie Jenkins, SCHS librarian.

An informative club on worthy profession

FTA

Pat Stephani, an FTA member obtained extra help from Mr. Wolk.

Juniors and Seniors composed one of the newest clubs at SCHS, Future Teachers of America. The FTA members assisted parents when they attended open house at the high school during National Education Week. The members showed the parents to the respective teachers rooms and answered questions asked by the parents. Another service performed by the FTA was providing Christmas cookies for the faculty lounge.

During the meetings, which were held on the second Monday of each month after school, speakers gave informative talks on college life. The subjects ranged from financial aid for college-bound seniors to college social groups. Movies and film strips were viewed on the teaching profession.

Transportation was provided by the FTA for students desiring to visit colleges. Some FTA members also provided tutorial help for other students. They played an important part in the planning and running of the Student Government Day.

Mr. Hanseter discussed certain parts of Dr. Utke's lecture after his presentation on UFO's.

The first Monday of each month was set aside for the Science Club meetings. The club this year was slightly larger than other years.

"We're Climbing the Bladder of Success," was the theme of the Science Club's float that got the club off to a good start. The float portrayed on "Indian" scaling a ladder which was leaning against a bluish purple bladder.

The annual Science Club trip was to Chicago this year. In Chicago they toured the Museum of Science and Industry.

The club voted to have a speaker come from the University of Oshkosh to give a lecture and show films on Unidentified Flying Objects. It was agreed to admit the public free of charge. Quite a crowd turned out to listen to Dr. Utke tell about UFO's.

Mid-winter brought with it preparations for the annual Science Fair. Much Effort and time was used to produce an excellent showing of the scientific knowledge of the school.

FRENCH CLUB

A first in float competition during Homecoming festivities started the French Club on a year of exciting activities. The float was entitled "We'll Beheadin' for a Victory".

The French Club meetings were held on the third Monday of every month and as usual, any student in French class was welcome to join if he maintained a "B" average in class. During the year members traveled to Milwaukee, Appleton, and Green Bay to see plays and movies pertinent to the French study at SCHS. In the fall the organization held a gala Halloween party that was attended by French Club students and their guests, afterward the students enjoyed refreshments at the high school. On the twentieth of December the French Club joined forces with the Latin Club to serenade the streets of Seymour with Christmas carols. The annual Sadie Hawkins Dance was held in February and was a great success.

Latin Club members roam to new conquests

The Latin Club's Homecoming float featured students making wine.

LATIN CLUB

Initiating twenty-four freshmen and four upperclassmen would prove quite a job for anyone, but the experienced Latin Club members under the guidance of Mr. Kocha, carried out the task with self-assurance and originality. Initiation highlights were rolling grapes by the nose through an obstacle course, and tossing raw eggs about the room. The traditional singing in Latin by the initiates concluded the initiation.

"We'll Make 'Em Wine" was chosen as the Latin Homecoming float theme. A huge wine flask and glass and three girls stamping grapes in a wine vat composed the float.

The movie "Up the Down Staircase" was sponsored by the Latin Club. During the Christmas season Latin members joined forces with the French Club and went caroling.

In the spring the club held their traditional Latin Banquet complete with a seven course meal, slaves, and entertainment. A Parent's Night was also held to acquaint the parents of club members with club activities.

HONORS READING GROUP

Informal meetings were characteristic of the newly formed Honors Reading group. Under the supervision of Mrs. Marjorie Jenkins, and Mr. Gary Keith Gunderson, a group of interested seniors for the Senior English classes, met every month to discuss an outstanding book.

At the monthly meetings, the members would discuss the good and bad points of the book.

The primary purpose of this group was to help the students prepare themselves for college by helping them to learn to think on their own. By the use of the informal meetings, the students learned on their own and not for grades.

NHS

To honor outstanding students for their fine scholarship, leadership, character, and service to SCHS is the main goal of the National Honor Society. This past spring, induction ceremonies were held in front of the entire school body, promoting students of the Junior and Senior classes. Following the ceremony the newly inducted members and their parents attended the raising and lowering of the American flag in front of the school. The principal duty of the NHS is the raising and lowering of the flag throughout the school year.

Hours of hard work—another ripper done

RIPPER

Writing copy ... taking pictures ... cropping pictures ... spelling ... meeting deadlines ... selling ads ... all these were a part of putting out the 1968 Ripper. Editor Kyle Pasch and her small dedicated staff worked from the first of September until mid-March.

Working with Kyle and her assistant editor, Luane Chambers, were Senior Head: Patti Stephani, Underclassmen Head: Lynn Lembcke, Activities Head: Maribeth Nicodem, Sports Head: Lou Johannes, Faculty Head: Sally Tubbs, Business Head: Jane Lubinski, Advertising Head: Jackie Huettl, Photography Head: Gert Staplebroek, and Editorial Head: Diane Doersch.

With an additional 16 pages, the staff was able to explore and elaborate on the theme "A Moment of Youth." Every page of the Ripper, from the Senior Section to the Index, is the culmination of hours of efforts by the students of our school and the two advisors Mr. Johnson Loud and Mr. Ray Paulson.

Much care was taken to make the 1967-68 Ripper the best ever — more than merely a catalogue of SCHS, but a book of fond memories.

Arrowhead develops as 'paper with a point'

ARROWHEAD

Part of Nancy Peters regular job was cutting the Redskin Rumbles.

On October 17, 1967 the SCHS Blue Jay passed away. Weeks of careful planning had gone into the "death" of the Blue Jay and the naming of its successor, the Arrowhead. The staff had long felt the name was completely unrelated to the school's athletic name, the Seymour Indians. Eventually, the name "Arrowhead" was chosen as best suited to getting the point across.

Another major change came about at the beginning of the second semester, when the editor and staff were informed that the Arrowhead was to appear only on a bi-weekly basis for an indefinite period of time.

Staff positions were again open to all classes. The majority of the students worked as reporters, covering social and occasionally sports events.

In mid September approximately forty students of SCHS gathered to tryout for the One Act Play entitled "Caleb Stone's Deathwatch." The cast of ten was chosen, rehearsals began, and the long hard grind of learning lines commenced. Coach Mr. Gunderson and the cast of three girls and seven school boys worked diligently each night after school to make Caleb Stone a success.

On October 26, the play faced its competition at the League contest which was held in the SCHS gymnasium. Five schools participated. Seymour presented their play first, and with the help of the stage and make-up crews, put in a fine performance. Unfortunately the panel of judges felt that three of the other schools were better so SCHS took a fourth place.

Caleb Stone was a grim comedy about the hypocritical mourners and family of miserly Caleb Stone, Don Kluge. The mourners included Caleb's sister Carrie, Diane Doersch; Tom Caleb's son, Steve Mory; the miser's daughter Antoinette, Luane Chambers; her husband Henry, Kent Abel, and their daughter Tony, Barb Reavis. Also in the play were two angels, Mark Hillegas and Robin Krohlow, the doctor, Tony Amob and the Nurse, Susan Schoen.

Don Kluge used his own make-up techniques to achieve the effect of death.

Students join to promote artistic interest

Many students in art class were also members of the Ars Nova Club.

ARS NOVA

For the first time in the history of the Ars Nova Club membership was restricted only to students in art. Many other aspects of the club's constitution were modified.

Ice sculptures, art displays downtown and in school were just a few of the projects attempted. In the Spring, the Ars Nova sponsored their annual Art Fair. Members of the art classes contributed their work while the club members did the matting and set up the displays. Also, every club member was required to present a program for entertainment at the meetings.

Plans were laid early in the year for the annual Ars Nova trip. Instead of the traditional trip to Chicago they decided to go either to New York or Minneapolis.

DEBATE

"Resolved, that Congress should establish uniform criminal investigation procedures." This topic engaged the attention and interest of the Seymour debate team for the 1967-68 season.

In early October, about twenty-three Seymour debaters traveled to Madison for the State Debate Workshop at which they heard a debate between two of the top debate teams in the state and speeches by University professors.

With a veteran squad, having lost only two debaters in the class of '67, Seymour's debate team under the direction of Mr. A.J. Sittarich began the year with experience and confidence. They entered both the St. Norbert's Thanksgiving Tourney and a tournament at Kaukauna. The Seymour debaters placed second in conference and wound up the year with a 3-3 record in their district.

To crown the year the debaters attended the Annual Debate Banquet which was held in their honor.

FORENSICS

Poise, self-confidence, personality, and a fine speaking ability — these were the qualities developed by students participating in the Forensic program at SCHS. Forensic week began in mid-January with the selection of categories and the assignment of coaches. Students were able to choose from nine different categories varying from extemporaneous speaking to interpretative reading of poetry.

On February 22, sixty-eight students participated in the local forensics contest where they were rated A, B, or C. Two speakers in each category and one play acting group receiving the highest ratings took part in the League contest. Upon receiving an "A" at League, contestants proceeded to the District contest and ultimately to the State Forensic contest.

Seymour also competed in the Conference Forensic contest, which is an inter-school competition. The Conference contest consisted of both "A" and "B" divisions.

FFA

Promoting agricultural interests in its members is the prime concern of the Future Farmers of America. Led by President Randy Lerum and under the supervision of Mr. Tech and Mr. Schneider, the club explored the field of agriculture. On December 2nd the club held their Father-Son Award Banquet. At the banquet the fathers were honored for their work in helping their boys in agriculture. Awards were given to the outstanding FFA boys.

Other activities undertaken by the club were the selling of rat bait, a magazine sale, and the sale of fire extinguishers. In late May the club again sponsored a chili dinner.

The club helped sponsor three judging teams comprised of boys in agriculture courses. One team went to the Northeastern Livestock Show held in DePere while the other two teams were sent to Madison for the State Judging Contest.

FHA

To begin their year the Future Homemakers of America sponsored their annual "Harvest Hop". Also this year the FHA chose to sponsor a Korean orphan. Seymour hosted the district rally which involved seven schools. The rally involved discussion of possible improvements, how to make money, and other basic ideas.

With Christmas time came many FHA activities including a party, caroling, and a Christmas Bazaar. The money made from the Bazaar was used to finance a trip to the state fair and a senior FHA member trip. In February the members visited a children's home and took toys to the children.

Spring brought with it two traditional activities, "Daddy Date Night" and FHA Week. Daddy Date Night provided the girls with an opportunity to meet the fathers of other FHA members. FHA Week included special days ranging from "Red and White Day" to "Irresistible Boy Day." Throughout the year the FHA Chapter contributed to the community, city, and school.

Strike up the band in memories of concerts

With skill and concentration Mr. Butcher directed the SCHS band during "Op Cafe."

BAND

To begin its year of music, the SCHS band participated in Homecoming festivities. After leading the Homecoming parade the band performed a half-time show at the football game. At every home game, the band added pep as it played snappy selections to encourage the team to a victory.

Planning and practicing for the annual cafe concert began after football season. The theme of the concert "Op Cafe" was carried out in lighting effects and "op" art displayed on the walls. This was the band's first all-pop concert.

This year the Dance Band played for both the operetta and the cafe concert. Pre-game and half-time music was provided at home basketball games by the Pep Band.

With the coming of the new year the band participated in a midwinter concert, grade school concerts, an exchange concert, and the Concert Festival. To end a fine musical year the band played in a Spring Concert and marched in the Memorial Day parade.

The band is under the direction of Mr. Allen K. Butcher.

MIXED CHORUS

"Get Up and Go", a two-act operetta spurred the mixed chorus to an exciting musical year. Under the direction of Mrs. Pasch, the mixed chorus sang the score of melodies accompanied by the dance band. Gail Moeller, Robin Krohlow, Donna Chambers, Pat Feavel, Patti Stephani, Scott Skodinski, and Gary Stephani starred in the production.

With the arrival of December came preparations for the Christmas Concert held for the first time in the Seymour Elementary gym. The one-hundred and twenty-five member chorus raised their voices in song to such numbers as "Glory to God in the Highest", "Born, Born in Bethlehem" and "Winter Wonderland".

In the spring, the chorus participated in the Musical Festival and the Annual Spring Concert. Also, many chorus members sang in the solo-ensemble festival. A madrigal group performed musical selections for various meetings and clubs. Throughout the year the mixed chorus did a most commendable job in presenting enjoyable music.

In addition to singing, the daily class work of the Girl's Chorus involved studying rhythms, note reading, and the lives of famous composers. Much time was spent in working on small ensembles which preformed for various organizations.

Under the direction of Mrs. Kathryn Pasch, the chorus sang in the Christmas Concert which was held in the Elementary School gym. Some of their numbers included "Bring Your Torches," "Mary Had A Little Baby," "The Cherry Tree Carol," and "The Birthday of a King." Debbie Noack and Connie Powell acted as accompanists for the chorus.

Members of the Girl's Chorus also participated in the annual Solo-Ensemble Festival which was held on March 23. Membership in Girl's Chorus diminished because of a growing enthusiasm for Mixed Chorus. For the first time in many years the Girl's Chorus was reduced to one class.

LETTERMAN'S CLUB

Seniors Danny VandeVoort and Tom Clevon proudly displayed their lettermen's jackets.

Letterman's Club, composed of boys who have earned a letter in any varsity sport, was high spirited and ambitious this year. Under the supervision of Mr. Richard Tepp, the club met every third Monday of the month.

Sponsoring a movie was an important money-raising task undertaken. The boys sold advertisements which appeared in the Sectional Wrestling Programs provided to everyone attending the wrestling matches held in Seymour. Members also sold and wore school jackets and sweaters.

A new activity sponsored by the club was a Faculty-Allstar Basketball game in which faculty members played the club members. Also this year the Letterman's Club Constitution was revised.

Climaxing the year for the lettermen was the Fifth annual spring banquet. At the banquet, businessmen, students, faculty, and other interested people honored the athletes who have worked hard and faithfully to produce a winning team.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Coach Tom Mettlach began the 1967 season with a largely inexperienced crew but as the season progressed he molded them into a working unit.

The Indians showed their inexperience by bowing to an excellent West DePere team. But they bounced back on their home field, and defeated Ashwaubenon.

They followed this win by suffering two losses away from home. The first was at Algoma, where the tribe's offense was almost non-existent. The next was to Bay Port in a see-saw battle which ended in defeat.

Homecoming fever then hit the Indians as they overpowered the Oconto Blue Devils. They weren't satisfied though, as they traveled to Bonduel and spoiled the Bears homecoming.

Oconto Falls, the champs came to town and after a close first half went on to defeat Seymour.

Rival Pulaski posed the final opposition of the season. Dominating statistics, the Indians squeezed by the Red Raiders.

Both the coaches and the players gave tremendous effort and time to make this season a successful one. As the season progressed, the team became one to reckon with and came through with commendable results.

J.V. makes Seymour's outlook bright

The Junior Varsity squad experienced an excellent season this year, going undefeated in seven contests. The only mar on their fine record was a tie to the Bonduel Bears, in their final game. Defense was the strong point of the team with the determined unit sparking the Indians to victory in most games. With the defense holding, the opponent's offense was given a good opportunity to control the ball well, with a fine running attack, as well as a good passing game. The tribe worked as a unit from kickoff return to starting defense, with good cooperation, and keen competitiveness. The working team was confident in their well-versed coaching staff, who worked hard and closely with the sophomores and juniors comprising the team. Even the managers did their part in aiding the team when the time came. The talented troupe made one of the best showings that any Junior Varsity team had ever made in the history of Seymour High football. This was probably due to improved and well experienced coaching. Mr. Herbst, Mr. Hansetter, and Mr. Paulson were always on hand to advise the team, and provide the necessary factor of leadership. The entire team and coaching staff looks forward to next year's team, full of potential. Congratulations JV Indians!

Frosh learned football through experience

Freshmen team learned there's more to playing football than just winning or losing.

The freshmen football team made their way through another rough season as their record for the year confirms. The frosh squad's first game was against the always tough West De-Pere team in which the two teams fought to a tie. The next contest, against an inspired Hortonville group, saw a defeat for the young tribesmen. Then Shawano invaded town with a determined troupe and subdued the Indians. New London was the next opponent for Seymour and they also proved to be exceedingly competitive as they outscored the freshmen. Seymour's next battle was with a stubborn Waupaca team which found Seymour on the short end at the whistle. Clintonville provided the final contact for the Indians and ended their season with a victory over Seymour.

Although the 1967 Freshmen Football season was far from successful, the team is anticipating next year's football as they have gained an invaluable amount of experience in the game which will surely be put to use next year and in years to come.

Varsity displayed a new team drive to win

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Victorious could not be a word used to describe this year's varsity basketball team, as is shown by their 4-12 won-loss record. Although many of the games could be considered toss ups, Seymour ended up short of victory in several of these occasions. The accent of the Seymour squad game was on offense, as the team many times scored over seventy points. Good shooting, of course was required for this, and it was shown by Dennis Murphy who finished fifth in the conference in scoring, averaging 18.3 points per game. Under the coaching of Mr. Carl Ibe, the team worked together well, and good sportsmanship characterized the tribe.

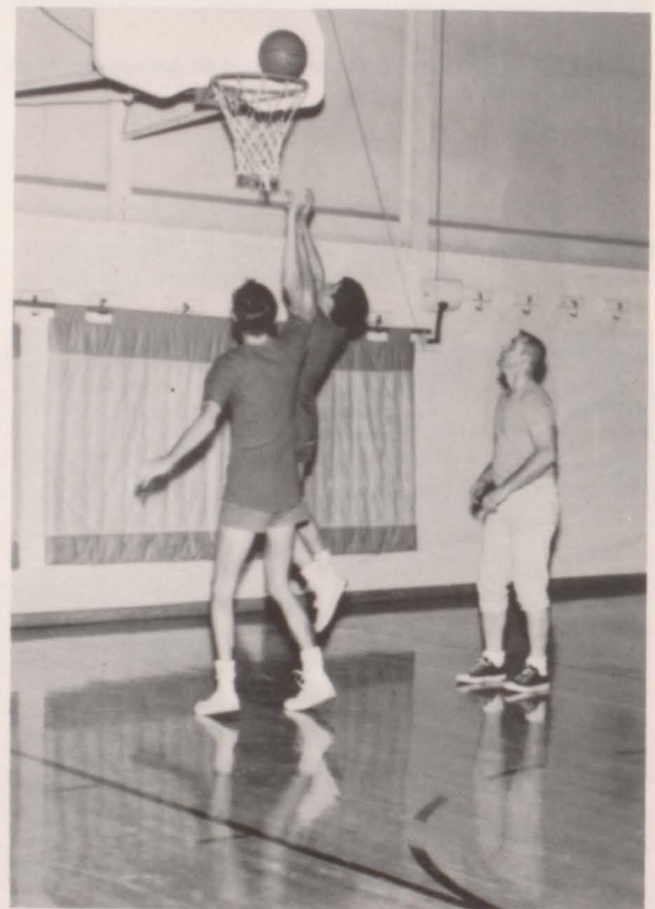

This year's team will look toward the future with a positive attitude, as there were many juniors on this year's squad, and with the addition of the JV sophomores, we can all look toward a fine Seymour basketball team.

Tall jv team performed skillfully

JUNIOR VARSITY

The Junior Varsity team ended their season with a successful 10-7 overall record. The JV's, considered by many to be one of the taller squads in recent years, concentrated on developing a potent offense as the best defense. The team, coached by Mr. Bill Diedrick, hustled vigorously, at all times playing to win. The team worked effectively as a unit, playing quite consistently, and always displaying fine sportsmanship on the floor.

A look to the future, then, quickly shows that the JV's potential promises a bright future for SCHS basketball, as the JV juniors and sophomores look forward to varsity action.

Frosh squad gained needed experience

The freshman basketball team this year experienced a rough season in playing a total of 17 games and winning only three of them. The freshmen schedule called for rugged competition as the frosh played Green Bay schools and many schools larger than Seymour High. The freshmen comprising the '68 squad worked together well and were in contention for victory in most of the contests but fell short of triumph when the fourth quarter buzzer sounded.

Coaching of the team was handled by Mr. Don Chambers, a veteran of many coaching seasons at SCHS. As freshmen, the members of the team are introduced to the NEW Conference and its style of playing. Although the record they hold is not highly significant at this time, the boys gained a sense of competitiveness and good sportsmanship. The experience gained by the frosh this year is sure to be valuable in their future years in basketball at SCHS.

Team spirit and hard work made for success

JV WRESTLING

Just as the varsity wrestling team had a successful year, so also did the JV's, following in the winning tradition that the Seymour Wrestling Team now has. They finished the year with a comendable 7-2 record. Guided by the consistant coaching of Mr. Vern Anderson, the team confidently opposed any challenger, with a good knowledge of the sport, and a good showing of sportsmanship. Good unity, and cooperation was characterized by the team at all times on and off the mats.

VARSITY WRESTLING

This year was primarily a year of rebuilding for coach Dick Tepp's wrestlers and it can easily be seen that a fine job of coaching was done, as the Seymour matmen compiled an excellent 9-5 overall record. In conference action, the Indians were outdone by only Pulaski, always a tough competitor, and the conference champ, Sturgeon Bay. Both were close matches, finding the tribesmen just short of victory.

The season was full of high lights, which is quite typical of the sport. In tournament action, the Seymour wrestlers dominated both the New London Ivitational and the Seymour Invitational Tournaments, with impressive victories. Then at the N.E.W. conference Championships, Seymour came up with three champions: Tom Cleven, Mel Brocker, and Berine Nooyen. In the regionals, Tom Cleven and Bernie Nooyen again took first place, along with Bob Liebergen. Then came the tough sectional competition, with Senior Tom Cleven coming up again with a great performance to gain first place and a trip to the State Wrestling Tournament in Madison. Here he placed fifth in the state in his 165 lb. class.

All-in-all the 1967-68 season was again another successful year for Coach Dick Tepp, and assistant Vern Anderson.

Practice is an essential part of wrestling.

Experience results in other successful year

VARSIY BASEBALL

Dennis Murphy readied himself for the pitch.

Seymour went through another successful baseball season compiling an excellent 10-4 record, despite this fine record they ended up losing a playoff game to Bonduel. Under the persistent coaching of Bill Diedrich, the Indians flew through their first four opponents before falling under an offensive barrage from the Bayport Pirates.

The Indians always put in a fine defensive game and usually had good hitting from all of the players. One of the more colorful parts of each Seymour game was the fine pitching done by Tony Skenadore and Steve Danforth, which constituted a diversified and accurate job. Highlighting several of the games was a home run by "Herbie" Danforth or any of the other fine batters on the Seymour squad. The prideful group respected last year's outstanding team and hoped to live up to their fine record and reputations, through much effort and staunch determination. Not only do the players themselves hold great loyalty for the sport, but Head Coach Bill Diedrich was confident in this year's talented tribe and admired their athletic abilities.

Track—cross country team's achieved success

TRACK

1967 seemed to be a rebuilding year for the track team. With the exception of a handful of upperclassmen, the track team was predominantly comprised of freshmen and sophomores. In general, the team had only mediocre success in competition, and should prove to be strengthened in 1968. One outstanding senior, Larry Ganzel, was hailed through out the season "one-man team." He was active in low and high hurdles, high jump, and discus throwing. His efforts were rewarded with a trip to the state meet in the high hurdles event. Under the coaching of Mr. Loren Cismoski, the team hold a keen sense of pride in competition, which was carried by the team members on and off of the field.

The undeveloped men of last year's team will be back this year to put our '68 team out in front to keep a winning tradition in the sport of track at Seymour High.

CROSS-Country

The 1967 Cross Country team experienced a "rough and rocky road" as they went through the scheduled season. The first meet found Seymour losing to their archrival Pulaski. Then at the Shawano Invitational our pacesetters came rambling into take fifth place. In a triangular meet at Manawa, Seymour fell short of victory and placed last. At the meet with Kimberly Seymour again lost in a close race. A determined Freedom team then invaded town and upset our runners with a striking victory. Finally Seymour got on the winning track and defeated Appleton East. Then at Hortonville in another triangular meet the Indians placed first, outscoring Hortonville and Reedsville. At the final meet Seymour placed second, beating out Shawano and losing to Waupaca. In sectional action Ricky Smits, the Tribes number one runner placed fifth.

Weightlifting program for spring sports

WEIGHTLIFTING

This year at Seymour High, a new weightlifting athletic program was organized under the supervision of Mr. Gay Herbst. The idea of the weightlifting was to prepare athletes not participating in winter sports, for the coming spring sports. Different lifting programs were made for each individual sport, ranging from football to golf exercises.

This program was started in November of 1967 and progressed through to the spring when practice for the spring sports was started. Participation was good at all times, the boys partaking in the program showing enthusiasm. These boys participated on their own accord. A special room was built for them in the balcony above the bleachers to accommodate the equipment.

The future for the weightlifting organization looks bright, as next year the possibilities will expand as participation and interest increases.

Cheerleaders help bring back school spirit

VARSITY WRESTLING CHEERLEADERS: C. Roepcke, J. Hackel, L. Landwher, missing.

CHEERLEADERS

With a shout and a flip of their new red and white shakers the cheerleaders of SCHS commenced a year of exciting experiences. In the spring of 1967 tryouts for the varsity cheerleaders were held and eight girls were chosen. For the first time in many years it was not necessary for the girls to have been on the team before. When school started in September tryouts were held for the junior varsity squad. The judging committee consisted of members of the faculty, senior cheerleaders, and Student Council representatives.

As the wrestling and basketball seasons began, the thirteen girls divided into separate teams for each sport. Three of the girls spurred on the matmen while the remaining ten, split into two squads to inspire the two basketball teams. The purchase of new uniforms for the five varsity basketball cheerleaders gave SCHS games a fresh bright look.

At the Thursday night practices, with advisor Miss Karen Dix, the cheerleaders worked tirelessly to improve and create cheers. Helpful to their efforts was membership in the National Cheerleaders Association which made suggestions on school spirit and skit plots, among other things.

Patty Jensen and Sandy Reis cheered for a JV victory.

Jane Tubbs was one of the cheerleaders that added color to the Homecoming parade.

Cheering meant more than just going to the games but long hours of practice.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS: R. Heike, C. Moeller, J. Bathke, L. Heike, J. Tubbs.

A hard part of becoming a cheerleader was just being willing to tryout.

Senior Activities

The Seniors found dancing in phy. ed. a lot of fun.

Cathy Moeller, presented the new rules for GAA at one of the first meetings.

Pat and Rane were two of the many Seniors that worked together on the float.

Seniors

Glenda Bessette and Judith Boogaard share a few seconds of riotous fun in the conference room first hour.

Lift dat chair! Tote dat barge? Seniors thoughtfully place their chairs on the tables after seventh hour.

Judy Hackel gets assistance from wrestlers Darrell Helms and Tom Cleven in decorating the school for Senior Day.

Larry Banker and Jane Tubbs have a friendly chat after school.

School events will long be remembered

Senior Homeroom girls discuss their new class schedules.

Mrs. Pasch helps N. Lueck prepare her solo for the music festival.

Fans buck the cold in support of the team.

The library was a scene of study.

Mr. Tepp always keeps his eye on both Varsity and Junior Varsity matmen.

There seemed that there was always something to do in art.

Kathy Thies and Jack Maass made good use of the refreshment at the Prom.

The Senior members of the court danced to the music of Pete Peterson and his combo.

"To those who deserve it . . . the credit"

Those students and teachers who have never worked on the RIPPER look only upon its arrival as the end of another school year without knowing the work involved. It takes a lot of time, hardwork and patience on the part of the staff and the advisors to present the RIPPER each year. A special thanks goes out this year to Maribeth, Kathy, Lou and Patti and especially to Mr. Loud for the use of his room and all the extra hours he helped us out. Again, to those who sweated out a long year with me, THANKS.
